WE NOMINATE

Harold Melville Hinkson Sr., one of the last of the fast-disappearing breed of independent Nassau Street businessmen, whose distinctive, and instinctive, "Can I help you?", will become part of Princeton Past with his retirement from the Borough business scene on Saturday, May 14th. Following more than four decades of self-sufficiency, a period marked by the decline of the individual and the rise of organizations, this outgoing stationer at age 65 (see Business in Princeton, page 27) feels it best to yield his firm-name to another entrepreneur and to reach out for the "good life" that will carry him far from his accustomed habitat.

Although active in myriad phases of community life, and insisting that "politics, religion and business never mix," Hinkson with unconscious effort has succeeded in making 74 Nassau Street a crossroads of Princeton life. It has been here that volunteer groups by the score have sold tickets for literally hundreds of benefit performances, have posted their placards, have obtained window-display space and have even disrupted telephone communications—to the detriment of a "going business." And, on the eve of a recent charity drive, a high school captain told his workers: "Don't forget to touch base with Mr. Hinkson."

Born here in the halycon 1890's, while then Princetonian-to-be Grover Cleveland was serving his second term in the White House, Hinkson completed his formal education in Princeton High School as a member of the prospective college class of 1918. Serving as a corporal with the Pioneer Infantry, 1918's counterpart of World War II's combat engineers, he earned his battle stars the hard way—in the St. Mihiel and Argonne offensives, Following the Armistice, with characteristic independence and without benefit of the GI Bill of Rights, he became a stationer in now 65-year old Upper Pyne, taking over an establishment founded in the early 19th century.

Not content with opening an expanding business at 6:00 every morning, an undertaking which now stocks hundreds of periodicals and handles daily newspapers for nearly 1,500 Princetonians, Hinkson joined the Hook and Ladder and Chemical Company and 23 years later served as chief of the Borough Fire Department. Being "too old to go to war again," and with his son holding forth as an infantry lieutenant, he played key roles on the World War II home front. He was an officer of the Defense Council, supervising salvage campaigns, victory gardens and rationing boards.

A founding officer of the Nassau Building and Loan Association as well as a charter member of Princeton Post No. 76 of the American Legion, Hinkson in the years just ahead will divide his months between Mirror Lake, N. H. (near Wolfeboro), and Pompano Beach on Florida's East Coast. His memories of some 20 years as commander of Princeton's crack American Legion color guard, and his associations with community committees, including the Town-Gown committee that in 1956 memorialized the Bicentennial of Nassau Hall, will be counterbalanced by his capacities as a part-time fisherman, carpenter, gardener and "well-meaning handyman."

For understanding better than most that a community's well-being is insured by the outlook of its individual businessmen; for insisting that nothing is more important than extending assistance to both individuals and organizations; for preserving the traditions of friendship and service associated with the non-atomic past; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

NEW HIGHWAY CLOSER?

Decision May Come Soon. "Everybody in the State Highway Department now agrees that 206-A is necessary. This was not true a year ago," Mayor RAymond F. Male told the Borough Traffic Safety Committee on Thursday. "A decision may well be reached this year on the final route."

The committee had met to discuss the problem of Washington Road, but inevitably the question of other traffic snarls in the Princeton area came under consideration. When the 206-A bypass was mentioned, Mayor Male said he had been told that two or three optional routes had just about been determined and that the Highway Department was planning to discuss these soon with the communities concerned.

"The project is moving," said Mayor Male, adding that the report of the Department's consultants was "imminent."

Members of the Committee observed, however, that 206-A would not be a panacea. They also pointed out that the County's plan for a circumferential route might substitute Harrison Street for Washington Road in the role of "Top Priority Traffic Problem."

Mercer County plans to construct in 1961 or 1962, as the first phase of its Princeton loop, a road which would start 1,000 feet west of the Penns Neck circle, cross University property and intercept Harrisnn on the West Windsor side of the canal. The present Harrison Street bridge would be replaced by a four-lane bridge which would be in direct alignment with Harrison Street. On the Princeton side of the bridge, Harrison Street would be widened to a pavement width of 44 to 48 feet.

"This is going to be a problem that faces both Borough and Township," Mayor Male told the committee. He said he thought the County is unaware of the effect its Harrison Street plans would have on the Borough end of Harrison.

Meanwhile, back on Washington Road, the committee got Borough Council to act on 14 recommendations contained in the Washington Road report submitted by Borough Engineer Arthur Brokaw. Council's first action was to approve the installation by Public Service of five more 10,000-lumen street lamps. Other recommendations:

- Strict enforcement of the 25 m.p.h. speed limit on Washington Road (and rejection of the report's recommendation that the limit be increased to 30 m.p.h.)
- Establishment of crosswalks on each side of the William Street -Washington intersection, on each side of the Prospect-Washington intersection, and across Washington at McCosh Walk.
- Realignment of bicycle ramps so that cyclists could not ride directly into Washington Road.
- Rearrangement of driveways, prohibition of any new driveways and removal or cutting back of all embankments, especially in front of Terrace and Campus Clubs.
- A vigorous safety campaign by the University.
- Widening of Washington Road between Prospect and College from 24½ to about 31½ feet.
- A pedestrian bridge across Washington Road at McCosh Walk (to be built by the University).

The committee rejected the proposal to depress Washington Road and to provide a so-called "creeper lane" for trucks. This lane, it was felt, would merely encourage cars to speed around the creepers in the slow lane.

The Traffic Committee also pondered the question of Borough police jurisdiction on University-owned streets. At present, the police have no jurisdiction, and any traffic arrests must be made under "disorderly conduct" or some similar charge.

TOWARD GREATER SAFETY: Engineer Arthur T. Brokaw's safety report on Washington Road is being carefully studied.

Golden Absolved

John P. Golden, 38, of Washington Road, Penns Neck, was cleared this week by the Mercer County Grand Jury of all criminal responsibility in the fatal accident last February on Washington Road.

Mr. Golden was at the wheel of the car which struck a Princeton undergraduate near Prospect Avenue. The victim died shortly thereafter in Princeton Hospital. A mandatory charge of death-by-automobile was lodged against Mr. Golden, but this week the Grand Jury voted not to ask for an indictment.

Theodore Tams, Borough magistrate and chairman of the Traffic Safety Committee, was asked to confer with University officials and express to them the "strong wish" of the Safety Committee that the University ask for Borough police jurisdiction. If the University makes this request, then motor vehicle laws can be applied to violators who are on University property.

PERSONALITIES

Jean Pierre Meyer, energetic manager of Bamberger's Princeton store, under whose direction the newly-organized Princeton Chamber of Commerce this week conducted a success-packed membership drive. Concentrating their efforts during Monday's business hours, Chamber trustees added scores of new firms to the original charter members, boosting their current total to 163 (see page 17.)

Carl Brown Jr., 28 Birch Avenue, who may qualify for a berth on the U. S. Olympic track team off his fine showing last weekend in the Penn Relays. Winning the 120-yard high hurdles in a scintillating 14.3 seconds, the Princeton High School alumnus also anchored (for the third straight year) the victorious Winston-Salem Teachers shuttle relay team.

ROUND-UP

Temperature swings of nearly 50 degrees continue to dot the weather picture. . . .It was 67 on April 25 and this past Monday, just a week later, a low of 39 was recorded. . . .Sunday's rainfall got May off with better than nine-tenths of an inch. . . .Princeton undergraduates, looking forward to houseparty weekend, hope the next four days will remain clear . . . .police plans to mark the occasion call for closing Prospect Avenue to all but emergency traffic between 8 p.m. Friday and 4 a.m. Saturday, and again from 8 p.m. Saturday to 2 a.m. Sunday.

Mario Rinaldi, 35 Benk Street, found $1,900 near his home on Saturday—in the form of a check paid by a client to Gallup & Robinson. . . .the missing item was returned to G & R. . . .Township residents who object to badly-behaved dogs can swear out a complaint and present it to the police, who sympathize with neighborly problems and will do their best to keep the complainant's identity anonymous while investigating what steps to take.

Three Princetonians were injured in minor accidents during the past week: David Jackson, 4, 52 Birch Avenue, ran into the path of a car being driven on Witherspoon Street by Mrs. James Ajamian, 38, Blawenburg, and was treated at Princeton Hospital for a bruised head and lip. . . . Nat Thompson, 34, 611 Lake Drive, received abrasions of the hand and knee when he ran his bicycle into a car waiting for the traffic signal at North Harrison and Hamilton. . . .Michael Stevens, 21, 5 Springdale, was little more than shaken up when the car he was driving down Bruere's Hill (Princeton-Lawrenceville Road) skidded, rolled over, demolished a section of a ten-foot hedge, and landed on its roof.

Borough officials, noting that only eight truckloads of junk were collected on the first day of the current Clean-Up Week, were regretful that many residents were apparently waiting until Thursday or Friday to place unwanted articles and trash at the curb for collection. . . .the poster announcing the occasion is receiving statewide publicity, with other communities planning to duplicate it for their own purposes. . . .the basic theme was "a melodrama, Clean-Up Week, in six lively acts" and a map of Princeton entitled, "This is the scene of the play—don't let it be the scene of the grime."

Ten Years Ago: TOWN TOPICS, May 4, 1950: Residents of the Clearview area were hotly debating proposed revision of an ordinance in Princeton Township that had been passed in 1948 to permit construction of a shopping center . . . .plans were afoot to extend the amount of land being zoned for business purposes, and considerable opposition existed. . . . the Nassau Hall bell, in use for more than half a century, was about to be replaced with a new one, cast in France, because it was losing its tone. . . .the month of April that had just ended was marked by two snowfalls.

A Washington directive to cut mail deliveries to one a day was proving unpopular with the Princeton Post Office and its letter carriers, on the grounds that it would mean an increase of 50 percent in the volume each man would have to handle at one time . . . .however, the edict went through and a relay system proved a satisfactory solution. . . Princeton Group Arts scheduled a McCarter Theatre concert featuring Princeton-born Emanuelina Fizzuto, pianist and Helen Hamm, soprano. . . .Margaret Kalmar Allison was cast in a leading role of the Theatre Intime production, "Captain Brassbound's Conversion."

Names on the Princeton Hospital birth list included Dr. and Mrs. Lyman Spitzer, 16 Prospect; Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Perna, 199 John; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Archibald, 22 Edwards; Mr. and Mrs. John Davies, 228-B Harrison; Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Provenzano, 216 Witherspoon; Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Gordon, 50 Stanworth; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mt. Lucas.

Princeton High School was offering "Iolanthe" directed by Thomas Hilbish and Miss Florence Burke. . . Joan Crawford was at The Playhouse in "The Damned Don't Cry" and Jane Russell in "The Outlaw" finally made it to The Garden after a seven-year bout with the censors . . . .in sports, the spring practice game in football between two Princeton teams drew 5,000 to Palmer Stadium, with fullback Jake McCandless on the scoring end of a 33-yard pass play for one of the touchdowns.

NEW APARTMENTS FOR UNIVERSITY: Ninety-six duplex apartments will be contained in the new eight-story apartment building on the shores of Lake Carnegie to house junior faculty of Princeton University. The building will be tawny brick with white trim. Each apartment will have its own private balcony overlooking the lake and will be served on the land side by an open-approach balcony reached by elevators. Full-height windows will face south across the lake. The slope of land south from Nassau Street is so sharp that the top story of the apartment will be lower than the level of Nassau Street.

GROUND IS BROKEN

For University Apartments. An eight - story duplex apartment building for junior faculty members at Princeton University will be built this year on a wooded Lake Carnegie site west of Washington Road on the north side of the Lake. Ground for the new structure was broken Tuesday. It is expected that the million-and-a-half dollar building, tallest ever planned in Princeton, will be completed within the next 12 months.

The apartments have been described as "a positive step toward solving the housing shortage and restoring the residential principle for a sizeable proportion of the junior faculty." Play and parking areas are included in the site. The basement will contain a fully-equipped playroom and laundry room, eliminating the need for laundry space in individual apartments.

Within recent years, the number of moderately-priced housing units has steadily decreased in Princeton, and less than a year ago, 80 members of the faculty were on waiting lists for housing. About 60 other junior faculty families were living outside the University community, some as far away as New York City or Levittown, Pa.

University-owned housing provides 652 units for a faculty and researcer staff of about 1,200. About 55 percent of the faculty either live in University houses and apartments, or have bought homes through University loans. However, most of this housing assistance goes to men in the higher ranks. For example, only 33 percent of the available assistance has gone to instructors.

"It is hoped," Dr. J. Douglas Brown, Dean of the Faculty, has said, "that attractive and reasonable accommodations will encourage more young people to enter upon the arduous but rewarding early years of a teaching career."

STUDENT DROWNS

In Dillon Gym Pool. A Princeton University sophomore, James D. Glidden, drowned in Dillon Pool Friday afternoon while attempting to swim two lengths of the pool underwater. It is the first drowning at the University since 1918.

Mr. Glidden is thought to have drowned at about 2:10 p.m. He had apparently gone to the pool about 1:30 after borrowing a pair of swim flippers from his roommate and announcing that he was planning to try to swim two underwater lengths.

At approximately 2:10, David M. Long, freshman, who was in the observation room above the pool, saw Mr. Glidden under water near the diving board and asked Maxwell Vogt, freshman swimming coach, whether somebody was skin-diving.

When Mr. Vogt noticed that Mr. Glidden had not moved, he raced down to the pool deck. Michael P. Henderson, freshman, who was about to enter the pool, dived in and pulled Mr. Glidden out and Mr. Vogt applied artificial respiration for more than 30 minutes. A pulmotor was also used without success and finally Dr. Harry R. McPhee pronounced Glidden dead. An autopsy showed drowning as the cause of death.

University officials have been unable, so far, to find out who was in the pool at the time of the tragedy. Apparently three or four undergraduates may have been in or around the pool. R. Kenneth Fairman, director of athletics, believes that Mr. Glidden may have "blacked out" from staying too long under water. Mr. Fairman has pointed out that if Mr. Glidden had struggled with a cramp, he would have broken through the surface of the water and would have been noticed.

CHOIR FESTIVAL SET

At Westminster College. A massed - choir festival of 450 voices will be held this Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at Westminster Choir College. The program is open to the public free of charge.

Many choirs from the Princeton area will be participating, under the direction of Charles Higgins of the Choir College, conductor. The program will include choral classics as well as contemporary compositions.

Known as a "Westminster Alumni Festival," the Princeton program is one of more then 30 such festivals being conducted at this time throughout the country by alumni of the Choir College. Alumni by the hundreds will be bringing their choirs of several thousand voices to participate in these various festivals.

These alumni, who are conducting in churches and schools throughout the world, have been as instrumental in spreading the fame of the Choir College as its famous touring choir, which has performed throughout the world under President Eisenhower's People-to-People program. Their tour was arranged by the State Department and the American National Theatre and Academy.

VOLUNTEERS RESPOND

To Three General Alarms. Three general alarm fires during the past week, two of them in early morning hours, kept Princeton's volunteer firemen on the move.

Fire severely damaged a three-room suite in the fourth entry of 1879 Hall, Princeton University, early Monday morning, destroying the furniture and belongings of its occupants, Donnelly Erdman and Harold Kuntz. The fire began in a smoldering couch that had been ignited by a cigarette earlier in the evening but which was believed to have been extinguished. Mr. Erdman and Mr. Kuntz later reported that they had awakened around 3:30 to find their rooms engulfed in flames and were unable to save any of their possessions.

Water caused damage to the ceiling and furniture of the suite below the fire. The alarm was received at Borough Hall at 3:35 and, a few minutes later, fire units were at the scene.

Rooming House Afire. A bedroom in a two-story rooming house at 331 Witherspoon Street caught fire at 1:20 Sunday morning and was completely gutted before the blaze was extinguished 45 minutes later. The house is owned by Flaton Rhodes who lives in half of the building and rents out the other.

The fire was confined to one bedroom, whose walls and flooring were badly scorched. The fire, which is believed to have been started by a cigarette, also destroy a bed and curtains. No one was injured.

Another general alarm was sounded Friday morning at 12:30 to report a fire in the vacant Duryee home on Olden Avenue. It was in the process of being razed by Princeton University, its present owner.

At the time of the fire, the roof and the attic had been torn down. Quite a bit of the remaining structure was burned.

Last Wednesday evening, Borough police received a call that smoke was coming from the basement of Hill's Market, 33 Witherspoon Street. In answering the call, police discovered a large refrigerator compressor on fire and quickly brought it under control with the patrol car extinguisher.

ALL CLEAR?

Surprise Drill at Hospital. Two students, one Princeton, one Pennsylvania, were arrested by Borough police during the defense exercise on Tuesday for failing to take cover, and were freed on $25 bail for a hearing on May 9. Otherwise, the exercise went off smoothly, according to Borough and Township police and Captain Geoffrey Sage, director of the Disaster Control Council.

A surprise disaster drill at Princeton Hospital brought 35 "casualties." Between the first announcement over the public address system and the final implementing of emergency measures, there was a lapse of only 12 minutes—a record interval. In that time, 50 emergency beds were set up, all equipment was made ready, off-duty nurses reported from Lambert House and staff doctors on duty were in control.

An additional surprise was a fire drill, which clanged through the hospital in the midst of the "disaster." John Kauffman, administrator of the Hospital, and Captain Sage expressed themselves as "well satisfied" with the results of the two drills.

After the all-clear, a group of men and women at Palmer Square

Day or night, the weather's just right, the Men murmurred, adding that he thought it would stay that way for a while.

Temperatures won't be much above normal of 56, but the daytime hours will be distinctly pleasant. Last Sunday's rainfall brought almost a third of the normal amount for the month, so expectations are the coming weekend will remain clear.

News Of The THEATRES

"ANXIETY" OPENS

Auden's Poem Given. An experimental reading of W. H. Auden's poem, "Age of Anxiety," opened in Murray Theater Thursday night in a version prepared for the stage by Graham Ferguson and John Becker and directed by Mr. Becker. It will finish its Princeton run this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

And it is a reading. In spite of sets, costumes, action and some original theatrical devices, such as the much-publicized television scenes, which come off very well and serve to keep the audience in fascinated attention, the fact remains that "Age" consists of four people reciting poetry.

Here, then, is the question: would it have been better to perch them all on stools at lecterns and play "Don Juan in Hell?" Frankly, this reviewer doesn't know.

"Age", as Mr. Becker has mounted it for Theatre Intime, is completely absorbing, theatrically. The Third Avenue bar (you can smell it from here), the naked light bulb, Norm Symonds' weary jazz, the slow, defeated movements of the actors all serve to underscore, if not precisely an age of anxiety, at least an age of wry despair.

Exciting Mental Gymnastics. But the Auden poem is more demanding than this. Just as it demands more than one reading in its printed form, so it demands more attention than an audience can give, considering the distractions of flashing taxi lights, rapidly delivered lines and a background of good jazz.

"Somebody keep the thinking going till I get back," says Quant (Emory Battis), as he disappears into the men's room. He needn't have worried. Cerebration doesn't stop for long in "Age." It's a tribute to the adapters and to the director that they have made mental gymnastics as exciting as they are in this experimental production, but sometimes the viewer finds himself wishing he could concentrate all his attention on the poetry.

"Age" never really begins. When the audience enters Murray Theater, things have already started in the bar on stage, and two couples are engaged in some Third Avenue dancing to a juke box. One by one, the four protagonists wander in and begin their evening-long introspection.

There is a good bit that happens on the Murray stage in spite of —or rather, along with—all the talk. Moments of rowdyness alternate with moments when "our lips are dry, our knees are numb." Mr. Battis does some rather alarming calesthenics. People get drunk. They make love. They wander vaguely out of the bar (and that's how the audience knows it's intermission time.)

Memorable Scenes Included. Several scenes are memorable: a taut "Frankie and Johnnie" sequence which builds up to a fine, dissonant climax; an episode in which the four characters re-enact the ages of man; a scene in which two lovers recite a parody of all the absurd promises lovers have ever made; and a delicious game of cliches.

Of the four actors who read Mr. Auden's lines, Emory Battis and Georgine Hall are the best. As old pros, they know the tricks of nuance and gesture that serve to delineate a character and they know how to keep the dialogue rolling fast without going off the track.

Jeff Moss, who portrays a very young naval officer, succeeds largely because he is a very young man himself. Bill Harman's intellectual is cardboard. (Here is one of the limitations of the amateur cast: does Auden really intend the intellectual to be like this, or would the character be a more significant figure in the play if he were portrayed by a professional actor?)

As an experiment, this new production (and the Princeton run marks its premiere) deserves attention, thought and comment. It may not be a play, but it certainly is absorbing theatre.

"PINAFORE" IS HERE

Gay Production Staged. The Savoyards of the Princeton campus have staged a fine production of "H.M.S. Pinafore," Fresh and bright as new paint, and full of spirit, "Pinafore" will be played again in McCarter this Saturday at a 2:30 matinee and also at 8:30 p.m.

Claude Engle of the class of 1960, is almost the star of the show although he never appears on stage. He has designed a "Pinafore" set which departs from the current convention of leaving most of the scene to the imagination of the audience, and presents instead a realistic deck with gleaming varnish, shiny white paint and plenty of ropes, including one which is used to unfurl a gay ruffle of colored pennants across the stage when the proper moment presents itself.

He has also designed a royal blue curtain, neatly trimmed with sailors' knots, which completely fills the McCarter proscenium and serves to rouse the audience to a fine nautical pitch before the opening chorus.

"WUNCE IN A MILNE:" Grenville Cuyler and Barbara Dilley of Princeton and St. Clair Sullivan will be seen in a presentation based on the works of A. A. Milne Friday and Saturday, beginning at midnight in Murray Theatre. (George Landau Photo)

Melvin Olson and Munroe Wade, as musical and stage directors respectively, have trained their amateur cast well. As usual, the men come across much better than the women and Lee Bristol as the First Lord of the Admiralty and Sheldon Simon as Ralph Rackstraw are particularly good.

Simon has a tenor voice which he can project to the back row. Lee Bristol has a comic gift which he can project quite as far. His prancing, mincing Sir Joseph is a delight to watch and to hear.

Reba Gillman and Marion White in the two principal female roles are considerably less effective. Miss White, in particular, has trouble making herself heard as "Buttercup," and Miss Gillman, although she gets her voice out into the theater, seems miscast as the lass that loved a sailor.

The chorus is one of the best the Savoyards have produced. They sing with balance, firmness, and articulation and they never stray from the conductor's beat (what, never? well . . . hardly ever.) Actually, this is one of the few faults one might find with this colorful and spirited "Pinafore". The cast sings well, but not always right on the beat and occasionally a chorus seems like a tug-of-war between orchestra, conductor and singers. As a whole, however, this is a fine production: better than last year's "Iolanthe", and a credit to its undergraduate crew.

COME, AT MIDNIGHT

To "Mitning." At 11:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday, The Arts at Princeton will present "Wunce in a Milne," a dramatic presentation of the poems and stories of A. A. Milne. The offering will be given in Murray Theater and tickets will be available at the Murray box-office just before the performance. No seats will be reserved.

Featured in the show will be Grenville Cuyler, Barbara Dilley and St. Clair Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan wrote his senior thesis this year on "Winnie the Pooh." The midnight program will consist of poems from "Now We Are Six" and "When We Were Very Young," and excerpts from "The House at Pooh Corner and "Winnie the Pooh."

"BIRDLAND" FEATURED

In Shearing Program. "Lullaby of Birdland," George Shearing's famous composition, will be featured in his piano program this Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Alexander Hall. Mr. Shearing will be accompanied by his Quintet.

Other numbers on the program will be "I'll Take Romance," "Monophraseology," "I Could Write a Book," and "Deep Night, Night Flight." Tickets, at $3.50, $2.95 and $2.10, are on sale at the University Store.

Born totally blind, George Shearing, a native of England, received his first training in classical music at the age of 12 and was known as England's finest jazz musician by the time he was 22. He has been popular in the United States since 1948, and is now considered one of America's foremost pianists.

He has made more than 100 individual record sides and five albums, and is popular in Japan, Australia, Germany, France, and South Africa as well as England and America. Described as "the man with the blind eyes and fabulous fingers," Mr. Shearing is PLANNING TO PLANT?

Green Thumb for Hire. The Green Thumb Landscape Service is dedicated, as you might guess, to serving people who do not have green thumbs themselves, but who would like to have, nevertheless, the handsomest sward and the fairest apple-blossoms of anybody on the block.

Formerly on Cold Soil Road, Green Thumb has moved to the Pennington - Harbourton Road off Route 69, and will open its new location to the public for the first time this Saturday. The 100-acre farm that has been converted to Green Thumb's purposes is easy to reach from Princeton and the drive is a delightful one this time of year.

The Green Thumb people look upon their enterprise as a combination of landscape service and plant market. You may consult with landscape architect Samuel A. Rogers about your landscape problem and he will arrange a group of shrubs to show you just how the planting will look, tell you exactly how to plant and give you all the horticultural advice you need to go ahead and dig. Or, you may browse as long as you like among the rows of shrubs and plants and choose one small rhododendron or nothing at all, if you'd rather think it over.

Some of the farm buildings at Green Thumb have been converted to landscaping purposes; for example, you'll find, at each door of the former chickenhouse, a sample landscape planting designed to show you the wide choice you have when you begin landscaping your own dooryard.

Each sample planting has been encircled with a stone retaining wall, because stonework for walls and patios will eventually be one of Green Thumb's many offerings. (Weather and the complexities of moving into a new location have slowed down the construction of some of these displays, but you'll find at least two on opening day.)

One of the offerings in the Green Thumb market is a new yew, taxus Green Thumb, which belongs exclusively to this nursery. It's very compact, with a short, dark needle and a slow, squat habit of growth which makes it particularly well-suited to a small house.

There is also a dwarf mybrid rhododendron which will attain only four feet at maturity. Buy it now for $1.75 to $5, depending on size. Cherokee Chief red dogwood . . .flowering crab. . .viburnum Carlesii, fragrant as May itself . . .cut-leaf red dwarf Japanese maples. . .potted roses in variety.

The rural location of Green Thumb means plenty of parking (just park in the farmyard) as well as a pleasant, leisurely afternoon drive. The telephone number, if you wish to discuss your landscape with Mr. Rogers, is Pennington 7-0128.

A Lantern in the Garden. One of the loveliest ways to enjoy a garden is to illumine it softly on a summer night and Princeton Gourmet contributes to your enjoyment of a nocturnal garden with a 14-inch cast iron lantern which holds a candle. The candle burns inside a lattice grille and under a rippled mushroom-like roof, and there is a second mushroom "ruffle" which keeps the whole thing from looking too fungus-like. Perhaps the most appealing feature of the lantern is its finish: a sort of graff rustiness which makes it look as though it has endured years of wind and weather in your garden.

Gourmet also has nine-inch cylinders of colored glass with wax and wick inside to burn on your patio. Just like Christmas candles, these will burn for 165 hours. (How long you going to sit on that patio, anyhow?) Colors are purple, blue, red, orange and green. 95 cents each.

For entertaining, Gourmet suggests a pineapple or a fish of taverneau wood, pierced to allow the intrusion of colored toothpicks

Have a Light, Mother?

It used to be that Mother was a Whistler and sat all day in her best black bombazine. You sent her a box of peppermints on Mother's Day. Today, she's out in her bikini getting the pool ready for a season of swimming and you give her pool lights from Princeton Gourmet.

A pool light is not something that hangs over a billiard table. It's a big wax cup about the size of a small mixing bowl and it has a scalloped edge and an inside holder which holds a candle.

The bowl itself does not melt, although it's wax. It just lets candle-light shine through and you can imagine how nice a swimming pool would look at night with half a dozen of these floating around on top of the water.

The holders are red, pink, white or aque and they cost $2.95 each. Don't let little brother experiment with them in the bathtub.

ADVISORY COUNCIL SET

For New McCarter Project. Establishment of a McCarter Advisory Council for the new project in which the theatre will serve as a Center for the Performing Arts was announced this week. A dozen theatre notables have already agreed to serve on the council, and more will be added in the near future.

A Munro Wade, Princeton writer-director and a trustee of the Triangle Club, will be on the council, along with Katharine Cornell, Helen Hayes, Joshua Logan, James Stewart and Richard Pleasant, co-founder of the American Ballet Company and formerly managing director of McCarter.

Other council members include Richard Barr, Broadway producer recently in charge of "Krapp's Last Tape;" Norris Houghton, original co-producer of the Phoenix Theatre and presently a professor at Vassar College, and Charles Schultz, a producer for CBS-TV and formerly an actor-director with the University Players.

Also, Phillip Oher, featured movie performer and Broadway actor; Philip Minor, actor-director whose most recent credit was the direction of "Under the Sycamore Tree," and Hugh Hardy, assistant to Jo Mielziner and an assistant designer of Lincoln Center's Repertory Theatre.

Mainly Advisory. The function of the Advisory Council will, for the most part, be just that, with members offering advice pertaining to their special fields. Some members, however, will be directly involved in the program, such as Mr. Hardy, who will serve as artistic coordinator.

Core of the new program will be a series of six dramas to be executed by a company of professional actors and directors from New York who will constitute a "theatre in residence" for Princeton. The series will begin October 6, with each play running from Thursday through Saturday.

Plays scheduled for the Fall season are Pirandello's "Right You Are:" Fry's "The Lady's Not For Burning;" George M. Cohan's "The Tavern;" Chekov's "The Sea Gull;" "Doctor for a Dumb Wife," a modern synthesis of the writings of Moliere and Anatole France, and Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest." Season subscriptions will go on general sale next Monday, May 9, and can be reserved at the University Store or by calling the McCarter Theatre, WA 1-8700.

CAST MEMBERS NAMED

By Community Players. Female members of the cast for their last play of the season, Graham Greene's "The Living Room," have been announced by the Community Players.

Lilli Josephson will play the part of Rose, the young girl around whom most of the action revolves. The two eccentric great-aunts, Helen and Teresa, will be portrayed by Elaine Battis and Mildred Wasserman, and Constance Loux will have the role of Mrs. Dennis, the maid.

Miss Josephson appeared in the Players' production of "A Murder Has Been Arranged," and Miss Wasserman appeared earlier in the production, "All My Sons." Miss Battis was previously associated with the Sandwich Players. Miss Loux is director of the Children's Theatre as well as an active member of the Community Players.

Wake Me When It's Over (May 4-7). A few months ago, we had a sleepless night and our mind, as it frequently does on such occasions, came up with what seemed at the time like a great idea: Wouldn't it be fun, we thought, to write a book called "The Ill-Tempered Clavichord"? In the cold light of the next morning it occurred to us that we had read and repressed S.J. Perelman's book of that title several years ago.

We mention this only because the makers of "Wake Me When It's Over" are going to get the shock of their lives one of these days when they realize that they had a funny idea, but "The Teahouse of the August Moon" got to it first. The picture centers around a group of Air Force personnel who decide to liven things up by building a luxury hotel on their Pacific island. The mean old captain who keeps getting in the way is Ernie Kovacs, the young man with the idea is TV comic Dick Shawn, the pretty military nurse is Margo Moore and the affectionate Polynesian lovely is a girl with the implausible name of Nobu McCarthy. Producer-director Mervyn Leroy, whose previous service epics have included "Mister Roberts" and "No Time For Sergeants," does the best he can with the silly script, and Kovacs leers as if he knows about "The Teahouse of the August Moon" but isn't telling. The film is in CinemaScope and color.

The Unforgiven (May 8-14) is another of John Huston's enormous and often absorbing dramas about outsized people facing tremendous problems against backdrops of spectacular proportions. The picture is in Panavision, a new widescreen process which looks very much like the old widescreen processes, and color. Featured performers are Burt Lancaster, Audrey Hepburn, Audie Murphy, John Saxon, Charles Bickford, Lillian Gish, etc., etc.

The story takes place in the Texas Panhandle during the 1860's. Miss Gish is a neurotic elderly lady who is determined to keep secret the origins of her foundling daughter (Miss Hepburn). Her security is threatened by an old man (Joseph Wiseman) who pries into the family's affairs and eventually presents evidence that Miss Hepburn is a Kiowa Indian. The Redskins themselves raid the settlement in an attempt to seize Miss Hepburn, but they are repulsed by her foster brothers, Lancaster, Murphy and Doug McClure. Eventually Lancaster, finding that familiarity breeds content, proposes to his foster sister.

The confrontation scene between Wiseman and Miss Gish and some of the chase sequences are handled with real skill and power, and the acting is competent enough to make up for occasional absurdities in the script. Franz Planer was responsible for the photography, which is strikingly good.

THE GARDEN

The Female (May 3-7) features Brigitte Bardot in various stages of undress and some attractive color photography of Spain. In addition to Miss Bardot, who is pouting better these days, the uniquely unmasked cast includes Antonio Vilar and Dario Moreno.

Miss Bardot is a dancer before whom hordes of men are unaccountably reduced to grovelling jelly. Eventually she spellbinds a nobleman, who degrades and eventually destroys himself for the touch of her lips. You'll die laughing.

The Snows of Kilimaojaro (May 9) has little to recommend it either as a motion picture per se or as a rendering of Ernest Hemingway's powerful story. Filmed in 1952 in color, it stars Gregory Peck, Susan Hayward, Ava Gardner, Hildegarde Neff and Leo G. Carroll. Darryl F. Zanuck was the producer.

Peck is a writer who is near death with a gangrenous leg in a camp near the African mountain, Kilimanjaro. His wife (Miss Hayward) nurses him but knows there is little she can do for him. In a series of flashbacks, Peck relives his consuming love affairs, his stint in the Spanish Loyalist army and, most importantly, his cynical prostitution of his writing talents. Despite the mediocre level of the acting, these sequences have some vitality and interest. Unfortunately, the screenplay has perverted the meaning of the story by tacking on an irrelevant and anticlimactic happy ending. Henry King directed.

Black Orpheus. (May 10-14) is a moving adoptation of the Orpheus legend in modern dress. Similar in concept to last year's excellent "He Who Must Die," the film is unashamed of the parallels it is drawing: it is set in a Brazilian carnival atmosphere and its two chief characters are called Orpheus and Eurydice. It was awarded the Golden Palm, highest award at the Cannes International Film Festival.

Orpheus (Bruno Melo) is a streetcar conductor. In a cabin adjoining his lives Eurydice (Marpessa Dawn), a country girl who has come to the city to see the carnival. The two young people fall in love, but Death (Adhemar de Silva), in the guise of persistent suitor in a skeleton costume, terrorizes Eurydice and stalks her through the carnival crowds. The girl seeks refuge in the streetcar depot where she first met her lover and it is Orpheus who, by switching on the current in an affort to find her, inadvertantly brings about her death.

Films of this nature are always in danger of slipping over the thin line which divides effective symbolism from ludicrous quasi-allegory, but "Black Orpheus" is presented with consistent good taste and engaging simplicity. Marcel Camus directed. The film is in Portugese with English titles. Recommended.

CLASSIC LOVERS: Portraying Columbia and Pierrot in recital by Aparri School of Dance will be Kirsty Pollard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Pollard of Province Line Road, and David Cope, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Danforth Cope of Hightstown. Recital will be held next Saturday, May 14, at 8 p.m. in Princeton Unitarian Church.

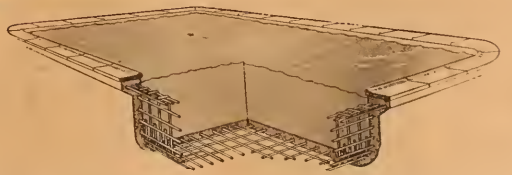
The Best Pool is a GUNITE POOL

Built by Experts in Pool Construction



(1.) Wide, strong, steel reinforced Bond Beam, assures super-strength "Like a Hoop gives strength to a barrel." Will resist severe weather extremes. No logs required.

(2.) Monolithic construction gives a one-piece pool. Has no expansion joints, no points of weakness; just one strong seamless shell of high density concrete, reinforced by steel.

(3.) The sparkling white marble plaster finish on the interior of our Gunite pools eliminates seasonal painting and is maintenance-free.

(4.) GUNITE, pneumatically placed concrete, is time-tested, durable. It combines beauty with strength to give you a pool in any desired shape. No back fill necessary, no vibrating is necessary.

(5.) We use a band of frost-proof tile at the water line to protect the pool wall from oils and water evaporation stains.

(6.) Coping of 12-in. width provides convenient hand hold for the swimmer and slip-proof surface at pool's edge.

WE USE GUNITE CONCRETE because we want you to have the very best of materials in your pool. The shallow end of the pool is finished to prevent bathers from slipping and falling. The walls and the deep diving well are finished for easy cleaning and to discourage algae growth. Only GUNITE CONCRETE combines this kind of versatility with traditional strength, density and water tightness.

We can convert your plastic lined pool to a beautiful modern, everlasting GUNITE pool and Nassau Street passed out mimeographed excerpts of a speech by Governor Robert Meyner in which he stated his opposition to fall-out shelters. The group was composed largely of members of the Princeton Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, among them, Mrs. Joseph Brown, Mrs. Hugo Bedau, Mrs. William Scheide, Mrs. Hugh Wilson and Earl Shapira.

REFERENDUM ASKED

Township Committee Comments. "This letter is presumptuous," declared Township Committeeman John Mount at Monday night's Township Committee meeting after the reading of a letter from the Princeton Water Company in which the company asked for a referendum on fluoridation.

Mr. Mount and Committeeman William Marvel spoke vehemently against the company's position. "I am particularly shocked," Mr. Marvel said, "by the sentence in the letter which says that an affirmative vote 'would have a strong influence upon the decision of the water company. 'A referendum would divide this community and cause the most serious kind of 'fear-mongering' propaganda. After it was all over, we would have merely the assurance that the company would be 'influenced' by the vote."

"I believe that a referendum would definitely be contrary to the interests of the community," said Mr. Mount. "This presumptuous letter rejects requests from the governing bodies of the municipalities and their Boards of Health. It is another in a long series of incidents in which the company has failed to deal in good faith with members of this community's governing bodies."

Mr. Marvel said he regarded the letter as raising a fundamental question: where does the decision-making power lie: with policy-making bodies or in a private monopoly company which derives its charter from the Public Utilities Commission? He also suggested that the existence of a private water company should be reviewed.

Committee Opinion Split. Citing an affirmative report on fluoridation made by a doctor on the board of the water company, Mr. Marvel said that people had been led to believe that the water company had quite a different attitude from the one expressed in the letter. He said the company had never communicated with Township Committee and had never sent representatives to Committee meetings at which fluoridation was discussed.

Speaking on the other side of the issue, Committeeman Stanley C. Smoyer said he did not feel that fluoridation was sufficiently important as a public health measure "to foist it on the public," and Committeeman Thomas P. Cook said he felt that the water company was fully justified in its stand. "Their only function is to provide potable water to the public," Mr. Cook said.

Pools to Be Fenced. In additional business, Committee introduced a swimming pool ordinance which would require the fencing of all pools within 500 feet of a residence other than the one to which the pool belongs. A public hearing on this ordinance will be held on Monday, May 16.

Committee took under advisement an appeal from a Planning Board decision signed by eight families in the Riverside and Adams Drive areas. The families protested a six-lot development proposed by Princeton Construction Company because they feel that it presses too closely upon their property lines.

The ordinance approving the agreement between Borough and Township for a joint library was approved. In regard to the bill presented to the Township by the Kingston Volunteer Fire Company, Mr. Smoyer said that "we

Joseph Nini, Township clerk, said the State Highway Department had informed him that their surveys did not show any need for traffic signals at the intersection of Snowden and Nassau. Mr. Nini was instructed by Committee to thank Borough Council on behalf of Township Committee for deciding to put through Prospect Avenue.

ARTS FESTIVAL SET

For Borough PTA Meeting. The annual Spring Festival of Arts will be held at the final meeting of the Princeton Borough Elementary Schools PTA Tuesday at 8:15 in the auditorium of the Witherspoon School. An exhibit of children's art from the Nassau Street and Witherspoon Schools will be featured.

The band, orchestra and fifth grade orchestra of the Witherspoon School will perform under the direction of Sylvan Friedman. Mrs. Joachim Parrella will direct the Witherspoon Glee Club which is also scheduled to appear.

HAS LICENSE SUSPENDED

For Careless Driving. Bruce B. Marker, 21, of 2 Hamilton Avenue, was fined $10 by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams in Borough traffic court and had his driver's license suspended, for a duration to be determined by the state Motor Vehicle Department. The charge was careless driving.

Mr. Marker had been driving under a "pink" driver's license. He pleaded not guilty to the careless driving charge.

GIRL SCOUTS TO CAMP

At Camp Tamarack "Round-Up." Some 100 intermediate Girl Scouts of the Princeton Area Council will participate in a "round-up" to be held this weekend at Camp Tamarack on River Road. The girls will arrive at the camp sites about 10 Saturday morning and set up tents and cooking equipment.

After lunch, the scouts will entertain visiting Brownie troops who will inspect the camp sites and then be guests at a camp fire program to include skits, stunts and songs. A "Scout's Own" program of affirmation of the ideals of scouting will close the week-end at 9:30 Sunday morning.

IT'S TERMITE TIME!

"Flying Ants" are a sign termites may be attacking your home. Call today for a free inspection by a University Graduate Entomologist to determine if any damage is being done and if protective treatment is necessary. We use wood pressure treating methods which protects damaged wood from any further dry-rot or fungus. Our methods are based on sound engineering and wood preserving principles and for that reason treatments given by us are capable of giving more permanent protection. The work is thorough, effective and guaranteed for five years. Our charge for complete protection is no more than some others charge for partial treatments. Please call collect if out-of-town.

Estimates are cheerfully given.

Ellen Frank has been named bugler for taps, reveille and the various flag ceremonies by Mrs. L. H. Myers, the chief coordinator for the affair. Others assisting in the program include Mrs. L. L. Vivian and Mrs. R. H. Parmenter, sites; Mrs. Herbert Pohl, program; Mrs. M. Peabody, flag ceremonies, Mrs. R. M. Gagne, dishwashing area; and Mrs. R. A. Hackley, camp closing.

MAY CROWNING PLANNED

At St. Paul's PTA Meeting. The Annual May Crowning by the St. Paul's Parent-Teachers Association will be held Tuesday at 8 in the school auditorium. Mrs. Robert Hoffman, PTA president, will be the Crowner, and her daughter Kathleen, the Crown Bearer.

The girls' choir, under the direction of Sister Mary Jonathan, S.M., will sing at the ceremony. PTA officers and committee chairman will participate in the crowning procession. A short business meeting is scheduled to follow the crowning.

Prior to the ceremony, sisters and teachers will meet with parents in the classrooms, beginning at 7. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Joseph Reef, Mrs. William Murphy and Mrs. John Sweeney.

SEWAGE PROBLEM AGAIN

Delays Convent Expension. The problem of sewage disposal in areas of Princeton Township which do not yet have sewers was brought to the fore again at last Thursday's meeting of the Township Board of Health through an expansion request from Our Lady of Princeton Convent.

The convent had requested the Zoning Board to allow them to increase their facilities. In view of the fact that the convent's present septic system is now overflowing, the Zoning Board turned the request over to the Board of Health, which ruled that additional facilities could not be added to the present septic system.

Mrs. Marcella Farley, Township health officer, was instructed by the board to inform officials of Our Lady of Princeton that they must obtain the services of a licensed sanitary engineer to assess the property and draw up a feasible plan for sewage disposal.

In other action, the Board of Health:

1) Arranged to get in touch with the Mercer County Mosquito Commission regarding possible rental of spraying equipment, in order to control the mosquito problem in the Township.

2) Unanimously approved an application from Trinity Episcopal Church for location of a cemetery on the grounds of the new All Saints' Chapel, off Snowden Lane.

3) Heard a recommendation from Mrs. Farley that a Township ordinance be drawn up which would govern the incidence of gasoline odors in any Township building. Philip Golden has reported the presence of such fumes in the building he owns on State Road, and oil gasoline tanks in the area are now being checked.

SPRING TEAS PLANNED

For Kindergarten Mothers. Two spring teas have been planned for mothers and children whose children are in kindergarten this year or next at the Littlebrook and Riverside Schools. The program will be from 3 to 4 on Tuesday at the Littlebrook School, and Thursday, May 12, at the Riverside School.

It is hoped that many mothers will be able to attend and take advantage of the opportunity to meet other mothers as well as talking with the teachers and principals.

WYMAN CLUB TO MEET

For Election of Officers. The Wyman Club will meet this Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the staff lounge of Firestone Library. Officers for the coming year will be elected and the club's madrigal group will sing.

"Texas to New Jersey Gas Pipe Line" is the title of the film to be shown. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Serving on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Breuer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Erdman Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Lindabury, Mr. and Mrs. David H. McAlpin, Mrs. Minot C. Morgan, Mrs. Fern Stafford, Mrs. Norman B. Tooker, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wallace Jr., Mrs. Charles B. Worden and Mrs. W. H. York.

ANNUAL MEETING SET

By Community Relations Group. Speakers at the Princeton Community Relations Group's annual meeting next Wednesday will be Richard Plaut, the Rev. Benjamin Anderson and Mrs. David Saunders. The group will meet at 7:45 at the YMCA on Avalon Place, and will hold a short business meeting and elect officers before the talks.

Mr. Plaut, president of the National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students, will speak on "Closing the Cultural Gap." Mr. Anderson, a director of Modern Community Developers in Princeton, will discuss an interracial housing development in Deerfield, Ill. Mrs. Saunders will present the results of a study on "Property Values in Four Integrated Areas of Princeton."

RUMMAGE SALE SET

By Christian Service Group. A rummage sale, sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service, will be held Thursday and Friday, May 12 and 13, in the social hall of the Princeton Methodist Church. Hours for the sale will be 9 to 5 on Thursday and 9 to 3 on Friday.

Mrs. Noah Webster has been named general chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Frank Heacock. Those wishing to donate items should bring them to the church during the week of the sale or contact Mrs. Webster. All unsold articles are to be donated to the Goodwill Industries.

FASHION SHOW PLANNED

By Princeton Newcomers Club. A dessert tea-fashion show will be held by the Newcomers Club of Princeton on Wednesday, May 11, at 1 in the YMCA on Avalon Place. Simplicity Patterns will provide the clothes which will be modeled by members of the club.

Nursery care for pre-school children will be provided. All club members are invited to attend the meeting which is also open to guests. Continued on Page 19

Question of the Week

Question: What is your opinion of Princeton's greatest need?

Where asked: Bryn Mawr Book Sale, Second Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. James Casserly, 54 Cuyler Road, sociology research assistant in neurology and psychiatry at the Bureau of Research, State of New Jersey: To correct its vision of itself as the ideal community. It is ideal in many respects but many problems that Princeton has don't seem to touch the people who could do something about them. Too often one hears in regard to a problem in Princeton either that it does not exist or that if people have these problems, they don't belong in the Princeton community. This is an amazing reflection because one usually hopes that there is a greater correlation between educational level and social responsibility and insight.

William Homer, 120 Prospect Avenue, member of University faculty: What Princeton needs most, in my opinion, is an outstanding Borough - Township public library.

Mrs. Harris Coit, 156 Springdale Road, slides and photographs artisan: Bus service between distant points within Princeton, not just on the main roads. Between points, for example, like the Harrison Street Project and the Graduate School for the people who usually don't have cars — the young professor, the grad student and his wife.

Kurt von Meier, 226-B Marshall Street, graduate student: I think Princeton should have a community Rugby team.

Mrs. Anna Rehfeldt, Cherry Hill Road, safety service instructor for the Red Cross: The greatest need of Princeton, as I see it, is more recreational facilities for all children, with no exceptions. They also need an outdoor, community swimming pool very badly in Princeton and some work for teenagers. If teen-agers could find some work, they would be much happier and so would the rest of the community.

John Jones, Newtown, Pa., member of a negotiating committee of an industrial union at General Devices: Better labor relations between employer and employee. Princeton represents a relatively unorganized area as far as labor unions go and the union potential here is very great.

Mrs. Steven K. Fox, Rosedale Lane, housewife: A good eating place that stays open after 8 o'clock. You give a cocktail party at night and there is no place to go later on to eat. You're stuck!

Daniel Brown, 148 Moore Street, graduate student, Princeton Seminary: An improvement in the driving habits of Princeton's citizens. If I drove the way people do in Princeton back in my home state of North Carolina, why, I'd be put in jail. I've been here six months now and I haven't got used to it yet. Every time I drive down Nassau Street, I get nervous.

Mrs. Robert W. Wood, Jr., 16 Fairview Avenue, Penns Neck, housewife: To stop increasing taxes. Although it doesn't affect me personally, I don't see how Princeton can go on and on increasing its taxes. They're high enough right now!

Dan Hodgins, 175 Linden Lane, desk clerk, Princeton Inn: Although Princeton has done an excellent job with its traffic problems, I feel it must find some way of solving the congestion on Nassau Street, especially the mad rush at 5 o'clock.

Anonymous, Princeton resident of one year: Some friendly people. I think Princeton is a cold, cold town.

Garrett S. Boetsma, Rosedale Road, banker: A traffic bypass for Nassau Street. Traffic relief for Nassau Street is Princeton's outstanding need.

Miss Lia Ragusa, Edgehill Street, reader for the Index of Christian Art, Princeton University: More low-income housing and more housing in general. I can see how many have trouble finding what they like, especially single people and people who like to live near the center of town.

Roger Caraco, 402-C Buter, graduate student in politics: Socialized medicine. Look at the size of doctor bills today. I'm a grad student and I know that people in the same situation I'm in can't afford medical care. What can we do if something serious happens and we get hit with a $4000 medical bill? And I'm not only speaking for grad students, now; anybody can get hit with a big medical bill and most people can't pay them today.

Mrs. Alan Carrick, 260 Prospect Avenue, housewife: Recreational facilities not only for children but for everybody. By that I mean parks and wild lands. Princeton needs more greenery.

David Bayley, 405-A Butler Avenue, graduate student, political science: Eliminating infractions of pedestrian safety laws at intersections. Motorists have no idea of the right of way of pedestrians and although the Princeton cops do a good job of keeping tabs on parking meters, they seem to ignore totally pedestrian safety at designated crossings.

Mrs. Clarence Rickett, Laurel Avenue, Kingston, sales clerk: More parking space. Whenever I come to Princeton I have to drive and drive before I can find a vacant meter and because of this, I do all my shopping at the Shopping Center. It's just too much. A nickel's time just goes too fast for me and most of the meters in Princeton are nickel ones. Princeton ought to have a free community parking center as they do up in New Brunswick. I know the merchants in town are losing a lot of trade because of the poor parking situation here.

James C. Sandilos, Pennington, Superintendent of schools, Hopewell Township: Probably Princeton's greatest need, in my opinion, would be to study facilities between the Township and the Borough in order to reduce duplication of costs and to provide greater services such as the recent study on the public library.

re: Keeping The Team In Control

What would happen to your firm if a member died today? Has a fund been set up for the purchase of the stock of a deceased member — or would his interests, perhaps complete control, be lost to an outsider? How can you be sure of "keeping the team in control?" Business Life Insurance to finance a sale and purchase agreement is the ideal answer.

THE MUSIC MAKERS: Accompanying the Princeton High School Choir in its performance of Stravinsky's "Les Noces" at annual Spring concert this Saturday will be these pianists, who will play the work's four piano parts. They are (left to right) James Waters, a member of the faculty of Westminster Choir College; Sylvia Glickman, Janet Wells and Sylvia Nichols. Concert, to be held at 8:15 p.m. in high school auditorium, will also feature Bach's "Magnificat," for which Mrs. Mathilde McKinney will be accompanist.

PROSPECT TO GO THROUGH

Council Approves Extension. In spite of strong opposition from two Councilmen, the controversial ordinance to extend Prospect Avenue received final approval at a special meeting of Borough Council Thursday night. The governing body passed the ordinance 3-2 after half an hour of discussion.

Councilmen Day D. Coyle and Richard W. Colman made it plain that they thought Council would be making a "grievous mistake" to cut Prospect Avenue through between Cedar Lane and Riverside Drive "at this time." Councilmen John B. Redding, Alfred E. Sorenson and William H. Walker supported the ordinance; Richard A. Lester, although not present, indicated in a written statement that he would have voted for it had he been there.

Both Mr. Coyle and Mr. Colman based their arguments on the belief that the new link to the Riverside area would increase traffic on Prospect Avenue in the area of Washington Road. Mr. Coyle opposed "deadheading more traffic into what has proved to be our most dangerous intersection," while Mr. Colman indicated his concern about "adding in any way to the traffic on that street" and suggested a study should be made of the use of Sycamore Road before opening Prospect.

Councilman Sorenson retaliated by saying he couldn't "see how opening Prospect is going to change the traffic pattern very much." After Mr. Coyle replied that the census crews show that probably 70 per cent of the Riverside residents commute, Mr. Redding pointed out that because of the congestion at Prospect and Washington Road, "anyone who would try to use Prospect would miss his train."

Planning Needed. The two opponents both observed that Prospect should be opened only after plans are complete for the projects to alleviate traffic on Washington Road. Mr. Colman also noted that "it's much harder to plan to maintain the character so important to a community than to plan for development."

Mr. Lester concluded his statement with the comment that: "The Borough planner and our engineer both favor completion of Prospect Street Extension now. I agree that the arguments for doing so are more persuasive than is the plan to pave all except a few hundred feet of the connecting link.

In a second action concerning the Borough's traffic problems, Council agreed to pay for the power for five additional 10,000 lumen street lights on Washington Road. This was one of 14 recommendations concerning Washington Road passed by the safety committee that afternoon. The other 13 will be discussed at the May 10th meeting of Mayor and Council.

Earlier in the day, Council ordered Ivy Inn to be closed from May 9 through 13 for allowing liquor to be served to a minor. Peter P. Sannino, proprietor of Ivy Inn, pleaded non vult to the charge which rose from a February 25 violation involving a Princeton University undergraduate. The plea cut the penalty from ten to five days.

CULTURAL PROGRAM URGED

As Result of Community Audit. Establishment of a special cultural training program for students from low cultural backgrounds was urged by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom in its final installment of a Community Audit of Princeton. The final installment, covering Princeton schools and courts, was presented at a meeting last week at First Presbyterian Church.

The recommendation came about as a result of the League's study of Princeton High School,

Obituaries

Robert J. Embley, 3, of the Hopewell-Pennington Road, Hopewell, died April 29 in Princeton Hospital. The son of Ogden C. Embley and Helen Mauszewski Embley, he is also survived by a brother, Stephen Embley; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Isabelle Embley; and his maternal grandfather, Stanley Mauszewski.

Angel mass was celebrated at St. Alphonsus Church, Hopewell, with interment in the parish cemetery.

B. Franklin Montague Jr., 53, of the Dutchtown-Zion Road, Harlingen, died suddenly April 29 at his home. Husband of Marie Adler Montague, he was born in Philadelphia and had lived in Harlingen 22 years. For the past ten years, he was in the retail poultry and egg business.

During World War II, Mr. Montague was a major in the Rainbow Infantry Division and served in Europe. He was a member of the Montgomery Township Fire Company No. 1 and the Hopewell Valley Golf Club, and a trustee of the Pike Brook Country Club.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by his stepmother, Mrs. Benjamin F. Montague Sr. of Broadalbin, N. Y. The Rev. Richard Caffill, pastor of the Harlingen Reformed Church, officiated at the service, held at his home. Interment was in West Laurel Hill Cemetery, Bala Cynwyd, Penna., under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Doris M. Shillaber of Carter Road, died April 26 in Princeton Hospital. The wife of William R. Shillaber, she was born in Hopedale, Ohio, and served with the Women's Army Corps in World War II.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. C. C. White, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Ledger, both in Ohio. The service was held in the Princeton University Chapel, with Dean Ernest Gordon officiating. Burial was in Brooklyn under the direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Theodore R. White, 54, of 148 Witherspoon Street, died April 22. The Rev. William T. Parker, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the service, held at the Mather Funeral Home.

Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

conducted under the direction of Mrs. Paul Schleyer, chairman of the subcommittee on education. Main object of the study, Mrs. Schleyer explained, was to discover why more Negroes did not elect an academic program, leading to college.

"The main reason is not lack of ability, but lower intellectual aspirations," Mrs. Schleyer said. "This is a direct result of a family background where culture is not valued, and it means a loss to the country of many talented individuals."

As a means of combating this, she recommended the creation in Princeton of a cultural training program such as that currently in operation in New York City. Under this program, grammar and junior high school students from low cultural backgrounds are taken on regular tours of museums, libraries, etc., and otherwise exposed to higher education. The result, she said, has been a definite increase in college admittances and a decrease in high school drop-outs.

Integration Report. The Community Audit of private schools and colleges in Princeton revealed that all accept qualified candidates, regardless of race, creed, or color, and that most are willing to give preferential treatment to qualified Negroes. Princeton University, for example, reported that it receives only five or six

MOVE UP TO 1960's OILHEAT

AND SAVE UP TO 25% ON HEATING BILLS

1960's OILHEAT—the result of intensive research in the 1950's—has been proved the most economical of any of the modern home heating fuels. When you use 1960's OILHEAT next winter, you will be keeping money in your pocket . . . in the form of lower—far lower—monthly fuel bills.

However, now is the time to see whether you can save even more money by doing one of two things:

ONE: If you bought your oil burner in the 1940's then, just like an older car, it may not be performing at peak efficiency. Result: you may be using more oil than is necessary. Solution: Modernize your heating system. Your fuel dealer has the facts and figures on the new 1960 equipment. He will be glad to apply them to your specific needs and show you how to save up to 25% on heating bills.

TWO: Like an automobile, an oil burner should have a periodic check-up and, possibly, an adjustment. Ask your fuel dealer about this service. It may save you money next winter . . . and add years of useful life to your present oil burner.

1960's OILHEAT is a combination of fuel and equipment. Get the most out of 1960's heating oil by having your OILHEAT equipment at peak efficiency. Your New Jersey fuel dealer will be glad to show you how . . . further evidence of his personal service to you.

holding smoked mussels, or what have you.

A 13-inch square lattice (looks like a perforated checkerboard) holds three square dishes of blue glass, each one with four legs that fit neatly into the lattice holes. You could play checkers, as a matter of fact, by moving those dishes around the board. (But don't spill the salted nuts.)

White plastic trays serve to bind a collection of tiny Japanese maple leaves, ferns, butterflies and gold and silver star-dust. Two sizes.

In the linen department, Gourmet has an oatmeal linen apron-potholder-toaster-cover set with a bright, sketchy apple in the middle. Comes in Delicious or Grimes Golden. A bib apron has a row of orange and gold carrots across its front.

If you're eating new carrots from the garden, use a carrot and gold striped paper place mat, one of eight in a set for 95 cents. Also comes in violet and royal purple, green and royal blue.

Say "boo" to your guests with a solid black place mat which has a plate-sized white dot in the middle.

Blue for You. It's blue and white this spring at Edith's Lingerie Shop on Chambers Street. White jacquard nylon makes a gown whose surplice top is spattered with blue rosebuds and held in by a blue satin bow. Over it goes a coat with blue sash, elbow puff sleeves and blue embroidery.

High-waisted white dacron and cotton, with a trellis of blue embroidery down the back of its shirtwaist-style coat . . . eyelet blue and white in a duster lined with solid white . . . blue-edged rhumba ruffles on an off-shoulder robe which covers a white gown, polka-dot with blue.

A fitted coachman robe all dacron, is a finger-paint print of very soft yellow and green. Turquoise butterflies appear in a water-color silk print robe with round collar. Comes also in full-length with front zipper. For business-like hours, buy a terry jumper with "monogram" and front zipper. Robes at Edith's start at $5.95.

Dacron and cotton pedal pushers at $5.95, have lace edges and modest lace-edged blouse. A pajama with three-quarter pants has an overblouse with puffed sleeves and lace-edged collar.

Older sleepers will prefer a long cotton gown in pale yellow or white, with white lace around the deep V, front and back.

Warmer weather ahead: Edith suggests a dacron and cotton bra-slip ($10.95) which zips up the front and can be worn with or without straps. Magic Lady pants, all nylon stretch, go under shorts. So does Tru-Balance's Oblique girdle whose hip line is re-enforced obliquely.) Anyone here match that one?)

Warner's Tomorrow bra has an elastic stretch back and elastic reinforcement in front ($3.95). Olga's "Secret Hug" has a latex ribbon which does the work of wire without the bulk or the pressure.

Negro applications each year, and that last year four of those who applied were admitted, although only one actually came.

In the public schools, it was reported that the Borough schools are well integrated, but that integration in Township schools is uneven because of the population distribution. "If the Township is to continue with its present system of neighborhood schools," Mrs. Schleyer said, "the only way to create really democratic schools is to establish open-occupancy housing throughout Princeton."

A study of the treatment of minority-group offenders in the Borough and Township courts, conducted under the direction of Mrs. Frederick R. Kling, brought high praise from the League. "We should be very proud of our local court system," Mrs. Kling said. She added that while the proportion of Negroes appearing in court was too high in ratio to the population breakdown, this was not a flaw of the courts but of environment and education.

The audit, which also covered employment, recreation, health and public accommodations in previous installments, was conducted under the general supervision of Mrs. John K. Hemphill. Mrs. Loren Johnston is League president.

NEW METERS ORDERED

For New Parking System. When 90 parking meters arrive early in June Princeton Borough will place on trial a new parking system recommended by the State Bureau of Planning and Traffic, Borough Engineer Arthur T. Brokaw said.

Under the new system, used successfully by the City of Montclair, one post, supporting two parking meters, is placed in the center of two parking stalls. Cars will park bumper to bumper, the front bumper of one car touching the rear bumper of another. At the front of car No. 1 and the rear of car No. 2 will be five feet of "maneuvering space." This five-foot zone will be marked on the street, Mr. Brokaw said.

By combining the maneuvering space of two parking stalls into one, the plan offers each motorist a positive, ample maneuvering area whose availability, at present, is largely dependent on the manner in which individual drivers park. It is hoped that the new system will eliminate wasted space between parked cars and prevent "boxing in." The extra five feet gained for each four stalls will also enable the Borough to increase the number of parking spaces.

A $4000 expenditure, 72 of the 90 meters will be used to replace worn out meters still in use. The remainder will be used in the trial of the new system, with tentative plans calling for the installation of the new type, center-post meters on portions of William and Witherspoon Streets.

Report from THE MAYOR

For a Safer Washington Road. The Borough's Traffic Safety Committee, under the chairmanship of Magistrate Theodore T. Tams, Jr., took action on 14 major recommendations affecting the Borough portion of Washington Road and delivered a report to Mayor and Council for their consideration. The committee asked for prompt action on one recommendation—a request for five additional 10,000-lumen lamps—and won Council approval the same night at the special meeting which saw passage of the Prospect Avenue ordinance.

No More Speed. The Safety Committee rejected some suggestions of the engineering staff. They turned down the idea of increasing the speed limit from 25 to 30 miles per hour and urged strict enforcement of the 25-mile limit. Also rejected was a proposal for a creeper lane for trucks on the hill.

The Committee was adamant against any suggestions that would tend to increase speed on this thoroughfare. Other modifications indicated that the Committee was interested in safe rather than fast traffic movement on Washington Road.

Changes Approved. Among suggested changes which received Safety Committee approval were ideas for a limited number of well-marked crosswalks; fencing; driveway changes to improve visibility; some sidewalk relocation; safer placement of bicycle ramps; grading changes; and suggested consideration of pedestrian overpasses in future University building plans.

The Committee also urged continued pressure on State and county officials for early construction of the 206-A by-pass and the proposed loop road around Princeton. It further recommended a vigorous campaign of safety education on the campus.

Joint Proclamation Issued. The Mayors of Borough and Township joined this week in a proclamation in support of the membership campaign of the newly-organized Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber, under the leadership of President Ralph S. Mason and a vigorous board of directors, is interested in helping to promote "the civic, commercial, educational and research progress of the community." The two municipalities will have many opportunities to work with the new Chamber in the furtherance of these goals.

Trucks Are Ready. Much credit is due to W. T. Airey, Jr. of 244 Nassau Street for the original ideas which resulted in the much-discussed Clean-Up Week proclamation. Now the Borough staff is hoping that it will be able to move the tons of material that will be on Borough curbs through Friday, May 7.

Conference Center. Princeton continues to grow as an attractive conference center. Last week the Mayor welcomed the New Jersey Building Officials Association for an all-day session.

This coming Sunday through Tuesday, Princeton will be host to the 1960 Eastern Regional Conference of the National Association of Attorneys General. The Attorney General of every state East of the Mississippi has accepted the conference invitation and the Mayor looks forward to another chance to represent our town in welcoming them on Monday.

One To Remember. Perhaps the customary welcoming remarks from mayors have become routine, but last week a phone call from two Princetonians reminded this mayor of a not-so-routine occasion. Mrs. Donald D. Egbert of 30 Nassau Street called to report that her husband, a short wave radio fan, had been listening to Radio Moscow.

In an English language broadcast to North America, one of the Russian governors who had been here last winter, cited the Princeton mayor for his attempt to welcome them in Russian. Everyone seems agreed that it was not a linguistic success; but it did seem to prove that as between peoples we may still be able to find great common objectives and aspirations—even as governments struggle to find ways to work together in peaceful pursuit of basic human goals.

"Tell It To The Mayor!" The regular weekly open house sessions will again be held on Friday, May 6, and Friday, May 13, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

YOU DO IT THIS WAY: Artist Rex Goreleigh exhibits the proper technique to young artist Jenny Kling at the Nassau Cooperative Nursery School and Jenny seems inclined to try the crayon herself. At her side is Leon Lucarelli. The school has had a series of guests including, besides Mr. Goreleigh, a mailman and milkman and the Mayor of Princeton, all of whom have told the children just how they go about their daily rounds.

"Tubby" Is Found.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Just a note to bring you up to date on results of my ad to find my Collie, "Tubby." First of all, let me say that the location of the picture was splendid and the results were overwhelming.

Mrs. Johnson must have received over 30 phone calls, all from people who were convinced they had seen him. Either she or I followed up all these leads and did find two lost Collies but none resembled "Tubby" with his distinguished Roman nose.

I might add at this point that few people here in Princeton seem to know what to do when they find a lost dog, especially if they have lost their collar.

They should call the police who will take them to the Small Animal Rescue League at the Lawrence Animal Hospital which is the safest place for them until they are picked up by their owners. Neither of these Collies have been taken there yet to the best of my knowledge and one of them is in poor state of health from lack of food.

I had just about given up hope as of Friday night, 12 days after he had disappeared, when lo and behold I received a Special Delivery letter from RFD 3, Freehold, N.J. (actually Smithsburg, N.J.) from a lady saying that "Tubby" had suddenly showed up at her house the previous Monday eight days after he was lost. This was 38 miles from Pretty Brook Road by car.

He had arrived starved and full of briars and ticks. They took care of him until they could catch up with me from the address around his collar. The moral of this tale is to keep an up-to-date address on your dog's collar since mine was my former address in Bedford Village, N.Y. delaying the letter to me two days. At any rate, I was able to find these good people even though they did not have a phone by checking with the rural mail carrier handling their route.

I recovered Tubby and gave these honest and kind souls a reward. He either travelled all the way by himself or escaped from someone who had snatched him from around here. I rather lean toward the latter, as I can't make myself believe he would go through two large towns and cross all those highways when he has never strayed from the property in his life. Other than a terrible case of ticks which have eaten him alive he is just fine and I am a new man.

I am enclosing a classified ad to thank those who tried to help.

WILLIAM ADAMSON, JR.
The Nassau Club

A Word of Warning.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Since I am comparatively new in Princeton, having resided here only for the past 20 years, I fear that some of the older residents may resent my chiding them for their too trusting attitude towards a stranger knocking on their doors.

I have just completed a very onerous chore as a census enumerator and was shocked by the complete disregard of the warnings from all law enforcement agencies regarding admitting a stranger into the house. I did not wear my badge where it could be seen.

My district ran the gamut from high income to low, from harried young housewives to gentle elderly ladies, yet not once was I asked for my credentials. Of course, I was thankful to receive such cooperation and to be treated so cordially, but I shudder at what might happen if people are not more careful.

Several times I asked why I was admitted so readily with no check of my credentials, and was told that I "looked like a gentleman." We know that many crooks make a living "looking like a gentleman" and should be more suspect than a tramp who can be classified by his appearance.

I would advise the residents of our community not to be less hospitable but more careful.

CARL KAVENAGH
36 No. Stanworth Drive

Solution Suggested.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I agree that we want less rather than more traffic on Washington Road; I agree that the area to the east where the Prospect Avenue extension is under consideration needs more than one or two outlets, and so I would like to make the following suggestion as a possible solution to this problem.

Let the extension be built, but let Prospect Avenue be blocked off at FitzRandolph Road, thus making Prospect a dead end there, from both sides. This could be done by barriers which could be removed on game days or at other appropriate times.

If this were done, then those in the area trapped by the extension would have several additional streets by which they could get to Nassau Street, viz. Harrison, Princeton Avenue, and Murray Place, and yet the upper end of Prospect would not get the heavier traffic which would use it if it were a "thruway", and moreover, such traffic would not add to the Washington Road congestion.

Probably very few, if any, of those coming up from the east would have any occasion to stop along Prospect from FitzRandolph up, especially since nearly all that part of the street is occupied by the undergraduate clubs.

In Case of Fire

A reminder to Princeton residents on how to notify the Fire Department in case of a fire was issued this week by James Pace, Princeton fire chief.

Borough residents are asked to use the police-fire telephone in the street corner box nearest them. Those who do not live near a box should call the Fire Department on a private telephone, as should Township residents.

The phone numbers to call: In Princeton Borough, WA 4-4141; in Princeton Township, WA 4-3105. Chief Pace emphasized that residents should not dial the operator, who is in Trenton. He also reminded residents to be sure and give their correct address when calling.

is president of the Princeton Women's Republican Club.

The club will hold its annual business meeting at 3 on Thursday, May 12, at the home of Miss Marietta E. Attwood, 21 Morven Place. Tea will be served, and offices elected for 1960-61.

SWEENEY TO SPEAK

To Democratic Club. Edward J. Sweeney of 181 North Harrison Street, newly-elected Democratic Assemblyman from Mercer County, will be guest speaker next Wednesday, May 11, at a meeting of the Princeton Democratic Club, to be held at 8:30 p.m at the Chestnut Street Firehouse.

Topic of Mr. Sweeney's talk will be "Migrant Labor — the Politics of Poverty." A film on migrant labor entitled "A Letter to a Georgia Mother" will be shown. Club members will also consider a proposal to form resolutions on national platform issues in preparation for the Democratic convention in Los Angeles.

Mr. Sweeney has urged prompt passage of a bill which would give the State Department of Labor and Industry greater control over agricultural labor contractors. Assemblymen Farrington and Panaro of Mercer and Koenig of Burlington are co-sponsors of the measure.

Although many of New Jersey's migrant crew leaders serve farmers and workers effectively, a minority are "greedy, irresponsible and, dangerous," according to Mr. Sweeney. The crew leaders are usually hired by farmers and then they recruit the workers. Often the recruiting is done in the South, and the workers work their way North as the crops ripen.

Crew leaders determine the laborers' rate of pay and frequently sell food and liquor to the migrants "Until this law is passed," Mr. Sweeney said, "many of these workers will again be robbed of their meager earnings by unscrupulous middlemen."

BUSINESS In Princeton

INDEX PRESENTED

To Chart Town's Economy. In the belief that a periodic report on the volume of various basic activities and transactions in the field of commerce will be an asset to the Princeton business scene, TOWN TOPICS presents on this page the first Business Index for the community.

The figures offer comparisons between the first quarter of 1960, the last quarter of 1959 and the quarter ending a year ago—March 31, 1959. The Index will be published in the future as quickly as figures for the preceding three-month period can be compiled—tentatively in July, October, January and April.

To determine what sources would best represent the trend of business in Princeton, TOWN TOPICS discussed the proposed Index with officials of both Princeton banks and the town's two savings and loan associations, as well as others directly concerned with charting economic trends. Representatives of both Princeton's municipalities were consulted, as were leaders in the field of public opinion research and members of the Department of Economics at Princeton University.

In the weeks to come, additions to the Index will be made when other sources for useful figures prove to be informative. TOWN TOPICS will welcome suggestions from interested individuals for making this service of greater value to the community.

HINKSON TO RETIRE

Stationery Store Is Sold. Harold M. Hinkson, Sr., owner of Hinkson's stationery store, 74 Nassau Street, for more than 40 years, will retire next Saturday, May 14. The business has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Umberto J. Roberto of 45 Henry Avenue, who will operate the same type of store under the same name.

Mr. Hinkson will continue to have an interest in the store and will act in an advisory and consulting capacity. His son, Harold M. Hinkson, Jr., will remain with the firm in his present position. The sale was arranged through the office of Edmund Cook & Company, Realtors.

One of the oldest continuously-operated businesses on Nassau Street, the firm was acquired from W. O. Sinclair by Mr. Hinkson on his return from France, at the close of World War I. Under Mr. Hinkson's management, it has specialized in personal service, including opening before 6 a.m. every weekday so that every customer can get his morning paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberto, the new owners, were both born and educated in Princeton. They plan to carry on the same unique services for which the store has become well-known over the years.

GROTTO PROMISES PIZZA

Made Before Your Eyes. Located at 18 Witherspoon Street, Princeton's newest restaurant, The Grotto, specializing in Italian-American cuisine, opened its doors Wednesday under the management of Gabriel ("Mike") and Betty Pilenza. The Grotto advertises, as one of its attractions, "come and see your pizza made by Mike before your eyes."

Mike will stand behind a huge pane of glass at the rear of the restaurant, kneading, flipping and preparing the pizza dough in full view of the diners. "We make our pizza pies right out in the open where everybody can see," Mike said, "as they do in New York. As far as I know, this will be the only such place in Princeton."

"We have installed much bigger and thicker bricks in our oven. These maintain a better and more even heat to make sure our pizzas teste as good as possible," Mike said. "We also have a retarder box where we store our pizza pie dough that keeps it at a certain temperature and consistency, something else I don't think any other place in Princeton uses," he concluded. Pizzas at the Grotto will be available in a 10-inch individual size, 12 inches and larger.

The Grotto is not just another pizza pie place, however, as it will serve complete dinners aside from the usual Italian dishes. It can serve approximately 65 people on 17 tables covered with the traditional red and white tablecloths and circled by four rugged captain's chairs. Soft Italian music will be emanated continuously from built-in speakers. The walls are painted a soft terrace green.

A striking feature of the new restaurant is a 43-foot mural which covers the upper half of one entire wall. It depicts buildings and events of early Rome and was painted by two Princeton High School art teachers. Above Mike, busy making pizzas, will be a huge picture of the famous Blue Grotto of Capri.

GROTTO MURAL: Part of the mural that covers the entire upper half of one wall of the new Grotto Restaurant is the Coliseum and a Roman Portico. Containing pictures of buildings and figures of ancient Rome, the mural is 43 feet long, seven feet high, and is believed by its owner, Mike Pilenza, to be one of the largest murals in Princeton. PERSONNEL CHANGES MADE

By Public Service. John P. Viguers of 48 Wilton Street, manager-assistant in the Princeton Commercial Office of Public Service Electric & Gas Company, has been transferred to the Summit Commercial Office, where he will be assistant commercial manager.

Newly-assigned to the Princeton office as assistant commercial manager is Robert S. Rutter, who has been a commercial assistant in the office of the general manager-commercial in Newark. Both changes are effective this week.

Mr. Viguers, who has been with the Princeton office of Public Service since January 1, 1955, started with the company in 1951 as a commercial cadet after being graduated from Rutgers University. He is treasurer of the Princeton Borough PTA and is on the baseball committee of the Princeton YMCA Midget League.

Mr. Rutter joined Public Service in 1951 as a commercial cadet and, upon completion of his cadet training course, was assigned as managerial assistant at the Summit office. He was transferred to Newark in 1956. He served in the Army from 1946 to 1948 and was graduated from Rutgers University in 1951. He now lives in Piscataway Township.

BUSINESS WEEK MARKED

At Princeton High School. In connection with the statewide observance of Business Education Week, graduates of Princeton High School who have distinguished themselves in the world of business, along with other businessmen of the Princeton community, visited the high school one week to give a series of talks to the various classes of business education subjects.

Purpose of the observance is to bring before the public the role of business education departments of high schools in preparing pupils to fill the needs of business enterprises. The Princeton High School program was arranged by Miss A. Myrtle Henson, chairman of the school's Business Education Department.

PHS graduates who participated included Miss Alice R. Braveman of A. R. Bravemen & Co., who talked to the advanced bookkeeping group, and Mrs. Gordon Buxton, formerly with Opinion Research Corporation, who spoke to the advanced stenography class.

The beginning stenography classes heard Thomas O'Connor, Jr., associated with the Astro-Electronics Products Division of RCA, and Liberi Diaforli of Princeton Theological Seminary. Arthur Everett of the First National Bank and Joseph Catelli of the Princeton Bank & Trust Company addressed the elementary bookkeeping classes.

Other Princeton businessmen serving as lecturers were Warren Pope of Opinion Research Corporation, who spoke to the office and clerical practice classes; Jean-Pierre Meyer of L. Bamberger & Co., retail selling classes; Elmore Day of Educational Testing Service, junior business training classes, and Tristam Johnson of Laidlaw & Co., business law and economics classes.

IN PUBLIC SERVICE SHIFTS: Named assistant commercial manager of Princeton Office of Public Service Electric & Gas Co. is Robert S. Rutter (left). John P. Viguers (right), managerial assistant in Princeton, has been transferred to Summit Office of PS as assistant commercial manager.

BANK COURSES COMPLETED

By FNB Staff Members. Nine members of the staff of the First National Bank of Princeton have successfully completed winter courses in banking procedures conducted by the Trenton Chapter of the American Institute of Banking, it was announced this week by Paul S. Smith, executive vice president.

They are Archie C. Lummis, assistant cashier, Donald A. Schannel, head bookkeeper; Miss Ruth A. Updike, Miss Julia Dejneka, Miss Madeline Donaldson, Arthur E. Gerstl, Jr., Norman Luck, Miss Mary C. Dennen and Mrs. Yolanda A. Rodweller. Mr. Schannel, with an average of 95, had the highest mark of those attending.

In addition, Mr. Schannel was graduated from a two-year course in public relations conducted by the New Jersey Bankers Association in Princeton. Douglas M. Dougherty, assistant cashier, attended his first year of this course.

REGATTA DAY AGAIN

Eight More Races on Carnegie. For the second (and final) spring Saturday, a major intercollegiate rowing regatta will be staged on Lake Carnegie. In all, 26 shells representing five colleges will compete for the fleeting glory that crowns the winners after months of rugged practice.

Two cups are at stake. The 150-lb. varsities of Pennsylvania and Princeton will row for the Wood Hammond trophy, which the Tigers have won each year since 1952. The Crimson of Harvard, invited as an added starter but ineligible for the cup, is a solid bet to flash across the finish line first. Last weekend, the Cantab lightweights won their 23d consecutive race.

Harvard is also a very strong choice to retain possession of the Compton Cup, which it has won for the last two years. The Crimson set a course record on the Charles last Saturday in trimming Rutgers, Wisconsin, M.I.T. and Boston University, covering the mile and three-quarters in a fine 8:43.4.

Loser to Pennsylvania in the Childs Cup last weekend, Princeton is unlikely to offer much of a challenge to Harvard. The Tigers, minus two of their regular oarsmen, gave the Quakers a good chase for the first mile but eventually lost by a length and a half.

Two Races to Princeton. Of the eight races in last Saturday's 150-lb. and heavyweight action, Princeton won but two—renewed indication of the problems the sport is encountering here these days. The Cornell fifties nosed out Princeton by a fraction of a deck length, with the freshman and third varsity lightweights defeating their Big Red counterparts for the only Princeton victories of the day.

Pennsylvania's heavyweight navy won all four races in which it was entered, all of them by open water. Columbia was third in every instance.

Dartmouth is an added starter in the Compton Cup race, and is making good progress in rowing under Princeton alumnus Pete Gardner. The Green is likely to trim M.I.T. for third place, with Princeton giving Harvard the best run for its money.

Since Carnegie Lake is a faster course than the Charles River, another standout performance by the Harvard crew will be a threat to the existing record. It was set two years ago by Yale, and stands at 8:35.8.

Saturday's Crew Schedule

The starting times for the eight intercollegiate crew races scheduled for Saturday on Lake Carnegie:

2:25—Third Varsity 150's, Penn, Harvard, Princeton.

2:40—Freshman 150's, Penn, Harvard, Princeton.

2:55—150-lb. Jayvees, Penn, Harvard, Princeton.

3:10—Wood Hammond Cup Race, 150-lb. Varsities, Penn, Harvard, Princeton. (150-lb. Races, 1 5/16 miles)

3:30—Third Varsity, Harvard, Princeton.

3:50—Freshmen, Dartmouth, Harvard, M.I.T., Princeton.

4:10—Jayvees, Dartmouth, Harvard, M.I.T., Princeton.

4:30—Compton Cup Race, Dartmouth, Harvard, M.I.T., Princeton. (Heavyweight Races, 1¾ miles.)

TIGER NINE SPLITS

Douglas Defeats Harvard, 4-2. Another solid pitching performance by southpaw Dave Douglas on Saturday gave Princeton its first baseball victory over Harvard since 1956. The highly dependable Tiger hurler fanned 11, scattered five hits and topped the Crimson at Cambridge, 4 to 2.

The triumph offset the loss 24 hours earlier to Brown, which trimmed the touring Orange and Black, 5-4, at Providence. However, the split kept the Tigers' Eastern League record at 2-2 for .500, a mark that pegged them in fifth place, well behind unbeaten Army (3-0), Brown, Pennsylvania and Columbia.

Two home games are on tap for the Tigers this weekend, a league clash at 4 on Friday against Cornell and New York University on Saturday. The latter contest will start at 1:30.

At Providence, Princeton fell behind in the first round when Brown got to starter Wally Phillips for two runs. The Tigers never did catch up, rallying for a pair in the ninth and putting the potential lead run on first before the effort died.

It was a different story at Cambridge, where a two-run first sent Princeton out in front. The Crimson pushed across single tallies in the second and third, but a run in the fourth and an insurance marker in the ninth were all Douglass needed. He retired 19 of the last 20 batters to face him.

Right fielder Ken Murray hit the ball at a six-for-eight clip over the weekend, while Bill MacMillan collected five safe blows, including a pair of triples. The Tigers continue to pound the ball steadily but with Douglas ranking as the only sure-fire pitcher, hopes for a shot at the Eastern League title are slim.

LACROSSE TEAM WINS

By Narrow 7-6 Margin. It took a five-goal performance by sophomore Phil Allen (see "We Congratulate") to pull Princeton's lacrosse team past lightly-regarded Dartmouth at Hanover Saturday. The Tigers finally broke away from a 6-6 deadlock with a goal by Lou Van Amerongen at 9:38 of the final round.

Twenty - two penalties were called in the rough fray—14 of them against Dartmouth. The Indians led briefly in the second period, fell back to a 4-4 tie at the intermission but were still even at 6-all as the final round passed the mid-way mark.

Adding Dartmouth to Penn for a 2-0 mark in league play, the Tigers head for Cambridge this weekend to face Harvard. The Ivy title will virtually be decided on University Field a week from Saturday when Yale, a surprise victor over Cornell, plays here. The Elis and Ferris Thomsen's ten are the only remaining unbeaten entries in the six-team circuit.

EDMUNDS STARS

As Track Team Loses. Sprinter Dick Edmunds won two first places and anchored the winning mile relay team Saturday, but Princeton lost to Harvard in a Palmer Stadium track meet, 88-82. In a distinct upset, the Tiger freshmen trimmed their Harvard counterparts, 82-58, marking the second year in a row that Princeton's first-year entry has won this meet.

Edmunds ripped off a 48.2 quarter and came back later in the day to win the 220 in a fine 21.6. The good time in the mile relay was 3:19.9.

Tom Blodgett of Harvard turned in a highly unusual performance as he placed in five events to account for 19 points. The versatile athlete won both hurdles and the pole vault, also picking up points in the javelin and broad jump.

Ed Thurber, despite a sore arm, again broke the Princeton record in the javelin. His latest toss was 227 feet, 6¼ inches—

WE Congratulate

PHIL ALLEN

Tiger Lacrosse Player

It has been almost four years since Princeton lost a lacrosse game to an Ivy League opponent. Last Saturday at Hanover, N. H., the Tigers were in real trouble, as an underdog Dartmouth team took a second-period lead and had a 6-6 tie until there were a scant five minutes left in the ding-dong contest.

By the time the 7-6 Princeton victory went into the record books—as the Tigers 18th straight over Ivy opposition—sophomore midfielder Phil Allen had accounted for five goals. As a newspaper account of the game commented, "Allen wasn't even a member of the starting lineup, but he still found time to score five times for the Tigers."

While the Baltimore area specifically and the State of Maryland in general are the primary hot-beds of the sport, there are exceptions. Phil learned his lacrosse at Manhasset High School on Long Island, where he was good enough to captain a good team and also to participate in football and track.

Last spring as a freshman at Princeton, he captained the Class of 1962, gaining valuable experience as a midfielder. Lacrosse and Princeton run in the Allen family—his brother, Johnny, was a cog in the Princeton attack as a member of the Class of '59, and his father was Princeton '32.

As in the case with most Ivy Leagues, at least half the competing teams are conceded a shot at the title. This year, Yale and Cornell—both of which will play the Tigers on University Field—are hoping to dethrone Ferris Thomsen's title-minded ten.

When the 1960 season began, Thomsen commented, "By the time we hit the Ivy portion of our schedule, I hope a few sophomores will have come far enough along to be of real help." Without the help that Phil Allen contributed last Saturday against Dartmouth, Princeton would today be confronted with the fact that a tie was the best it could hope for in the league it seeks to dominate for a fourth straight season.

best effort in the east this spring.

TENNIS TEAM WINS

Defeats Dartmouth and Navy. Victories over Dartmouth and Navy by identical counts of 8-1 fell to the tennis team last weekend. The triumph over the Green preserved Coach John Conroy's mark of never having lost to Dartmouth in tennis or squash.

While Presbyterian College is playing the tennis team on Saturday, the golfers will be in Pittsburgh for the Eastern Intercollegiates. Last Saturday, the Tiger linksmen topped Georgetown, 6-1, in a triangular match here but lost to Army, 4-3.

PHS NINE PROSPERS

Raises Record to 3-1. Shutout victories over Long Branch by 13-0 and Steinert, 3-0, more than offset a 4-1 loss to Trenton as Princeton High School's baseball team moved into the busiest schedule it has known in years. After four games, the Little Tigers were 3-1 and prospects were bright for a good season.

Bruce Sandvick hurled the one-sided triumph over Long Branch, setting the losers down with a mere two hits. Jack Lackey, Roy Cranstoun and Boyd Bergen accounted for half their team's 14 hits. Lackey blasted a pair of doubles and a single, driving in two runs, while Cranstoun's triple and single and Bergen's two safeties also were good for two rbi's apiece.

The Blue and White ran its whitewash streak to 16 straight innings Monday afternoon with a 3-0 victory over Steinert on the losers' diamond. Lackey got this shutout, a three-hitter that made his 1960 mark 2-1.

A first-inning surge that sent two runs across the plate was all PHS needed. Bergen walked to open the game and Cranstoun followed with a single. After the runners advanced on a wild pitch, Bergen scored on a fielder's choice and Rich Hurfurd squeezed Cranstoun home.

Steinert filled the bases with one out in the second, but Lackey got one batter to hit into a force-out at the plate and fanned the next. The Blue and White was held to two hits but the losers' errors were costly, misplays providing an insurance run in the seventh that Dick Olsen carried around.

The home opener went the wrong way last week as Trenton High collected a 4-1 victory at Lackey's expense. After the visitors had scored once in the first, PHS drew even in the next round on a single by Hurford, a hit batter and a misjudged fly to left from Dick Olsen's bat.

That ended the Princeton scoring, however, Trenton edging ahead with a two-run rally in the fourth and adding another tally in the fifth. PHS outhit the opposition, 9-7, but sloppy base running proved costly, one runner passing another for an automatic out to kill off a potential big inning.

SIX RECORDS SET

At Valley Road Track Meet. Six new school records were set at the annual track meet held for Valley Road School seventh and eighth graders in conjunction with National Youth Fitness Week, the first week in May. Five of the new records were set by girls as the eighth grade won, 138-103.

Some 296 children participated in the meet which consisted of 21 individual and relay running events classed as to sex and weight. Each child was limited to two events, although the relays were open to everyone. Supervising the meet were Norman Van Arsdalen, Township School's physical education director, and Miss Winifred Whalen, the girl's physical education teacher.

Record winners included Jackie Geary who won the girl's 75-yard dash in the 111-120 pound class with a time of 9.05 seconds. Jackie was also a member of the 440 relay team which set a record of 62.2 seconds for that event. Other team members were Daisy Lockhart, Myrna Wells and Beverley Marshall.

Carolyn Staton ran the girl's 50-yard dash in a record time of seven seconds in the 81-90 pound class. Jackie Linder, in the 91-100 pound group in the 75-yard dash, finished the course in ten seconds even, and Lauren Lauch and Cathy Bassett each ran 75 yards in 10.02 seconds in the 101-110 pound class.

David Duva was the only boy to set a new mark, finishing the 100-yard dash in 12.07 seconds. David was running in the 125 pound category. Judges for the meet included assistant principal Eugene Colgan and Mrs. Virginia Switten and James Feehan.

TO FORM TENNIS GROUP

Women to Meet at YWCA. A meeting to organize a women's tennis group during the summer will be held Monday at 8 in the YWCA on Avalon Place. All interested women are invited to attend.

Challenge ladders, round robins and regular tournaments will be set up among the participating players. Further information may be obtained by calling the YWCA office.

TENNIS CLINIC SET

Vic Seixas to Participate. Vic Seixas, internationally known tennis star, will conduct a tennis clinic for junior players Saturday morning at 9:45 on the Princeton University courts. In the event of bad weather, the clinic will be held in Dillon Gym.

The first part of the clinic will consist of a discussion by Mr. Seixas about junior tennis today. Then he will give a demonstration of various strokes and finally will engage in an exhibition match with local players. Dr. John Conroy, Princeton's varsity tennis coach, is to preside at the clinic.

Part of a nation-wide program to encourage tennis among younger players, the clinic is sponsored by the Junior Development Committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, in co-operation with Princeton University and the Princeton YM-YWCA. Mrs. Lewis S. Kraft, YMCA tennis instructor, is in charge of arrangements for the clinic which is open to the public.

BOWLING NOTES

Shelton Clinches "A" League. Shelton Motors won the "A" league championship last week by opening up a seven point lead over the Rookies (62) with only one week left to play. The Kase Kleaners team was in third place, one game behind the Rookies. In other Princeton bowling action, Edwards Engraving and Walker Gordon were tied for first place in the "B" league with 48 points each. Four teams were only a game behind the leaders as the loop moved into its final three weeks of bowling.

Tiger Garage (54) maintained an eight point lead over Wengryn Construction in the Industrial loop, with the Dayton Five (42) in third place. Nassau Del broke a tie in the Women's League and went in front of Tiger Bus (79) by two points. Other league leaders included Henderson (36) by four games over Procaccini in the Mixed League, and Physics by five points over Machine Development in the Faculty loop.

High scores abounded in the "B" loop where Dick Perna rolled 247 and Nick Sculerati, 235. Jim Kahny had 221-223-214 for 658; Harry Kahny, 212-190-217 for 619; and Wilton Rose shot 224-205-171 for a 600 series. Other notable scores included Don Snyder, 210; Bill Pinelli, 203; Jack Petrone, 202; and Nick Marel, 201, in the "B" loop; and Andy Drummond, 213; Walt Wengryn, 210; and Frank Fliszar, 207, in the Industrial League.

Nelson Smith topped the "A" league with 223, followed by Joe Dalle Pazze, his first 200 game at 217; Frank Sannino, 210; and Bill Kiefer, 200. Marilyn Lowe led the women with 211-179 in the Women's loop. Other high women's scores included Betty Harris, 197; and Betty Snyder, 181, in the Women's League; and Betty Kleiber, 177-182, in the Mixed League.

Harvard Ivy Winner?

Is Harvard the best bet to win the 1960 Ivy League title in football? The directors of sports information at the eight member colleges think so—and think Princeton will be no better than sixth.

In a poll taken at their annual spring meeting in New Haven, the publicists expressed the belief that Coach John Yovicson's steadily-improving Crimson eleven will replace Pennsylvania at the top of the league. Tied for second in the balloting were Yale and Cornell.

Penn rounded out first division, followed by Dartmouth. Princeton, which lost its last three games in 1959 and has much rebuilding to do, was selected for sixth place, Columbia edged out Brown, with the latter figured to replace the Lions in the cellar.

No Insurance Problems says Stan-the-Man Musial

Stan Musial, one of baseball's greatest hitters, believes in practical solutions. He owns a car, home, and a thriving restaurant; but he never worries about insurance.

Stan's solution: "I buy my insurance through an independent insurance agent." Stan feels that his confidence is well-founded, too. "I know that because he's independent, he's free to choose the best insurance for me from the oldest and most reliable insurance companies in the country."

Stan says that if his car is ever damaged in any way he won't have to bother with all the forms involved in settling the claim. His independent insurance agent takes care of all the details. Stan believes that most people—with a practical point of view—sensibly buy their insurance from an independent agent.

You, too, can buy insurance with confidence from the man who shows this Big "I" Seal. To display it, we have had to meet professional standards designed to protect you.

SOFTBALL BEGINS

Two Shutouts Recorded. A pair of veteran pitchers were up to their old tricks Tuesday night as play began in the Princeton Sportsmen's Softball League for the 1960 season.

Harry Kahny threw a no-hitter for the Sportsmen's Club, coasting to an easy 21-0 shutout over a new entry, the International Chemical Union. The victors began mildly with two in the first but sailed into the opposition for seven more in the next round and the rout went on from there.

Huck McCreedy didn't enjoy the margin that Kahny did, but he blanked Leo's Rural Service for Sannino's, 3 to 0. McCreedy yielded a lone safety while fanning eight. Lou DiMeglio collected a solo homer for the victors.

Circle Esso broke up a free-hitting 8-7 game with Teagues A.C. by jamming nine runs across in the top of the sixth to win, 17-7. Each team was charged with four errors but the victors included a pair of homers among their 13 safe blows. Results of the game between Walker-Gordon and Belle Mead were not available at press-time.

TIGERS LOSE TO RUTGERS

As Hitting Fails. Although power at the plate has been its stock-in-trade this season, ability to get hits at the right time failed the Princeton baseball team virtually completely on Tuesday. As a result, the Tigers were trimmed, 3-1, by a Rutgers nine they had beaten earlier this season, 7 to 5.

Wally Phillips was the starting and losing hurler. The victim of an unearned run in the first, he gave up additional tallies in the third and sixth, pitching well enough to win with adequate support at the plate.

The Orange and Bleck was held to six hits, and was able to bunch them only in the first. Bob Myslik's leadoff single was followed by a wild pitch and Captain Mike Ippolito's clothesline hit to left for Princeton's only run.

PHS NINE BUSY

Four More Games on Tap. Princeton High School's oddly-bunched baseball schedule, complicated by a late spring vacation and the senior class trip to Washington, gives the Little Tigers four more games in the next six days.

Following this Wednesday's contest at Lawrenceville, the Blue and White will be at home Thursday and Friday. Freehold and Long Branch, the latter in a return game, are the respective opponents. On Monday, it will be Hunterdon here, followed by Hamilton away.

Ewing trimmed the Little Tigers on Tuesday, lowering their record to 3-2. Bruce Sandvik and Jack Rogerson pitched, the former taking the loss.

The victors jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the second before PHS averted a shutout when Lackey chased in King with a Texas Leaguer. Ewing then pushed four more across the plate with the aid of some loose fielding in the fourth and added its final run in the sixth. The Blue and White was held to three safeties by winning pitcher Bob Wiese.

PHS WINS TRACK MEET

Crushes Steinert, 102-15. Winning every event with the exception of the half mile, Coach Win Niles' cindermen swept to their first dual track meet triumph Monday by swamping visiting Steinert. "Even in the half mile, which we lost, the time was very good," Niles said.

As he did against New Brunswick, Lamont Fletcher won both hurdles. In the 180-low hurdles, he broke the shcool record with a sizzling 20.8. Unfortunately, Fletcher "had only one clock on him" and his time was disallowed as a record. "He'll just have to do it again," Niles added in a tone that fully indicated he would.

Other team members in the Little Tigers' long parade of winners were: Steve Scibetta in the 100, Arthur Lewis in the 220, Dave Kilgour, 440; Richard Montgomery, high jump; Jack Copeland, pole vault; Joe Beachell, javelin; Ridge Applegate, shot put; and Howard Gould, discus. Dick Lappan turned in a time of 4:52 in winning the mile event by a wide margin.

Princeton High met Hightstown on Wednesday. Highland Park will come here next Wednesday, with Hamilton on tap two days later.

RUMMAGE SALE NETS $2400

For Princeton Hospital. Mrs. William Bonthron, treasurer of the Hospital Aid Committee, has reported $2400 was gained through the group's rummage sale last week.

Thanks were expressed to the Hook and Ladder Company for the use of its firehouse on Harrison Street, and to all the merchants and individuals who contributed to the sale. Mrs. John W. Brown, vice-president of the committee, was in charge of the sale. Mrs. Nathan Hower is president.

MEMORIAL SERVICE SET

For P. MacKay Sturges. A memorial service for P. MacKay Sturges, former mayor of Princeton, will be held next Thursday, May 12, at 11 a.m. in Princeton University Chapel.

The service will be conducted by Dr. Ernest Gordon, dean of the Chapel. Mayor Sturges, a member of the class of 1917 at Princeton University and a resident of Princeton for many years, died March 7 in Naples, Fla.

NOMINATIONS TO BE MADE

At Women's Club Meeting. The nominating committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Princeton will present a report on proposed officers for the coming year at the club's dessert meeting Monday at 8 in the home of Mrs. Helen Stevenson, 38 Haslet Avenue.

Mrs. P. F. Herrick, president of the organization, will preside. All members are asked to attend.

TAG DAY SET

To Aid Deborah Hospital. Saturday has been designated Tag Day by the Princeton Chapter of Deborah to raise funds for the Deborah Hospital, a non-sectarian, free care hospital for tuberculosis and cardiac and pulmonary diseases.

Containers for contributions will be located in many of the stores in Princeton and the Shopping Center. Governor Robert B. Meyner declared the week of May 2-9 as Deborah Week for the conducting of such drives. Deborah Hospital is located in Browns Mills.

RECORD SUM RAISED

By Bryn Mawr Book Sale. Over $2500 was realized during the Bryn Mawr Club's annual book sale, held last week. Part of the money will be used to renew the scholarship of Miss Margaret Kersey of Pennington, who will be a junior next year.

Other scholarships will be awarded at a later date, and a contribution will be made to the Northern New Jersey Club. The first book sale, held 29 years ago, netted $191.

News Of The CHURCHES

NEW CHURCH PLANNED

In Kendall Park. Plans for establishment of a new United Lutheran Church in the Franklin Park-Kendall Park area were announced this week by the Rev. Howard A. Lenhardt, Home Mission Supervisor for the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of New Jersey of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The Rev. Mr. Lenhardt said that Dwight Huseman, a student at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, has been assigned as Mission Developer in the area, beginning June 1. Mr. Huseman will be graduated from the Seminary in May and will be ordained at the end of the month by the Ministerium of Pennsylvania of the United Lutheran Church.

Mr. Huseman will live in a parsonage on Franklin Park Road at Elm Street and will serve the area during the Summer by making acquaintance calls upon the various people interested in the establishment of the new Lutheran Church. The church will probably be located on Route 27 between Franklin Park and Kendall Park.

Prior to Mr. Huseman's arrival, any inquiries about the proposed church should be sent to the Rev. Mr. Lenhardt at the Synod office, 235 East Hanover Street, Trenton 6. He may also be reached by calling the office at LYrie 9-4557.

OVER $26,000 RAISED

For Calvary Baptist. A total of $26,226 was raised in the capital fund campaign conducted during the past two weeks by Calvary Baptist Church. It was announced this week by Dwight A. Shew, general chairman.

Mr. Shaw reported that the amount raised exceeds the church's current commitments and will cover all mortgage payments for the next three years. "We are especially pleased with the high percentage of people who participated in the campaign," he said.

BULLETIN NOTES

A report on the camp project of the Princeton Council of Church Women, through which the council plans to send a boy to the Princeton YMCA summer day camp, will be given at the council's May Fellowship luncheon this Friday at 12:30 at the YMCA, Avalon Place. Mrs. David Taylor, Cherry Valley Road, is in charge of donations for the project.

The Junior High Fellowship of Second Presbyterian Church will leave this Friday at 6 p.m. for a weekend camp retreat in Blairstown. The group will return Sunday at 4 p.m.

Spring luncheon meeting of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church will be held Monday at 12:45 in the Social Hall of the church. An all-circle program, based on "The Psalms," will be presented. Members of Mrs. William W. Smith's Circle will be hostesses. The church nursery will be open during the luncheon, which will cost $1 a plate.

The third annual fashion show and luncheon at Princeton Jewish Center will be held next Wednesday, May 11, at 12:30. The show is open to the public. Donations will be $3 each.

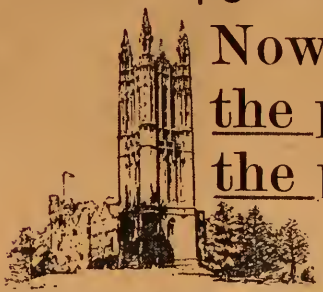
LOOK! 2 new models open today!



Now Princeton has the price as well as the prestige!

You, too, may feel that Princeton has everything... is, in fact, New Jersey's most rewarding place to live. Where else such uncluttered space. Where else such beautifully cared for streets. Where else... another like Princeton's university. Where are the homes finer. And now it is all yours at a refreshing price. Here's honest Princeton luxury that begins with a plot that's well over a half acre. Beautiful exteriors of cedar shakes and brick. Breathtaking 24 x 21 recreation room. Dignified homes spacious in every aspect. Even an oversized 25-foot garage is included. The location—within 5 minutes of the Princeton station—is ideally convenient. Look all over... you won't find other homes of this quality and space at the price. Look all around Princeton... you won't find another new home that doesn't cost thousands more. Look and you'll want to live in Princeton Colonial Park!

The Washington 2-Story Colonial only $19,990 — Four cross-ventilated bedrooms 23'2" x 13'5" living room • large entrance foyer and center hall • eat-in kitchen with built-in appliances • family room adjoining kitchen • separate dining room • laundry room • 25-foot garage • 200 x 125 land completely landscaped (front, sides and back) • Full bath upstairs, half bath downstairs.

The Hamilton Split Level only $19,990—Three bedrooms • Master bedroom has tremendous walk-in closet • L-shaped 24'6" x 21' recreation room • eat-in kitchen with built-in appliances • laundry room • 25-foot garage • huge storage areas • master bath plus spacious main bathroom • 200 x 125 land completely landscaped (front, sides and back).

DON'T CALL!

If you think early Georgian or late Cape Cod is just the berries, forget we came in. But if you and your kith enjoy plenty of room and light, believe a house should be designed to live in—not merely to exist in, like the idea of getting maximum space per buck, then let's talk. We'd like to explain and show you our concept of a new type of light-hearted living that we deeply believe in—the Techbuilt House.

Princeton Manor

The Princeton Manor Construction Co. will build from your ideas, your architect's plans, or from over 200 designs in our files — on your lot or our land. Consult our list of building sites in the Princeton area. You may use your lot as all or part of the down payment on your new home. Locally owned and managed, the Princeton Manor Construction Co. is currently building twenty to twenty-five quality homes a year. A few of our extra services are unusually favorable financing and free consultation with an interior decorator.
